

Additional Exercises for Chapter 4: Optimization

Stephen Boyd Lieven Vandenbergher
March 16, 2019

This is a collection of additional exercises provided to supplement those found in the book Convex Optimization, by Stephen Boyd and Lieven Vandenbergher. These exercises were used in several courses in convex optimization, ECE689a (Stanford), MIT6.035 (MIT), usually the second, and sometimes as more optional, third, of the semester when significant sections for the book had been covered in some parts. Many of these include a computational component using MATLAB, a Matlab package for convex optimization, that illustrates the ideas presented and the theory in the book and the use of Matlab, either Symbolic Math, or for the purpose of solving some of these problems in the computer with the other packages for convex optimization, CVXOPT (Python) and CVXOPT.jl (Julia). Most of the exercises require a knowledge of elementary calculus.

Though we do not use these exercises as part of the final grading in ECE689a, (provided you understand the exercise). In fact, we generally encourage the teaching assistants (and in some cases, students) who have helped us develop the book to use these exercises. Please provide helpful feedback when you use these exercises used in ECE689a.
