

Deliverable	Description
Metrics & Measures	Definition of the metrics and measures that will be used to monitor the effectiveness of test automation
Automation Requirements and Goals	Test automation requirements and goals are stated and documented to keep the project team working toward the same results. These dovetail with metrics and measures to objectively evaluate progress towards meeting the business goals and technical requirements
Framework, Script, and Test Data Configuration Management Plan(s)	Written plan for managing framework library code, script source code, and test data as a single coordinated test suite related to specific releases of the AUT
Script Code Writing Standards	Establishes consistency within code and the code of all team members. Consistency leads to code that is easier to understand, which means it is easier to develop and to maintain while reducing reduces the overall cost of the test suites. New team members get up-to-speed faster with less learning curve
Test Data Standards	Establish consistency for the construction, management, storage, and reuse of test data
Test Environment Requirements	Documents the environment including equipment, software, connectivity, setup, and tear-down required to script tests and execute the test cases and test suites. This may be an individual document or a major section in an individual test plan. See SVP section 2.3
Script Development Environment Definition	Documents the workstations, software, and other tools necessary to write and execute automated test scripts
Smoke Test Plan (Automation)	Test plan specifically written to determine what Use Cases and functionality will be automated for WinBig and how the automated test will be conducted. This document will be similar to the WinBig Acceptance Test Plan except it will be for the functionality that is to be automated. Smoke Tests exercise the most critical functionality of an application to determine if the AUT is ready for acceptance into general testing and represents a mini-regression test. The larger regression test can be built from the foundation created in the Smoke Test
