Competing In Emerging Markets Cases And Readings:

Competing in Emerging Markets Hemant Merchant, 2008 Given the increasing prominence of Emerging markets a sophisticated understanding of their perils and promises is crucial to the growth of companies including those from within Emerging markets themselves Thus it is surprising that in their quest to train managers only a few academic institutions currently provide a systematic forum to generate a superior understanding of this important economic event This groundbreaking book provides an essential set of readings and case studies that will facilitate a much needed fundamental rethinking about drivers of successful as well as unsuccessful firm conduct in these markets and about the role of sophisticated but usually poorly serving Western theories and ideas regarding competition and competitive traps and successes Although the book is intended primarily for Emerging markets courses it can also be used for various other courses in International management or International strategy It explores the following themes the strategic and operational challenges companies face while competing in these relatively new and therefore generally unfamiliar markets the imperative to generate creative solutions in response to idiosyncratic challenges posed by Emerging markets Competing in Emerging Markets emphasizes both the unique challenges facing corporate managers who operate or intend to operate in Emerging markets and the ways in which managers can efficiently and effectively respond to these competitive challenges As one of the first comprehensive texts on this subject Competing in Emerging Markets is certain to become a standard in the field

Understanding Family-Owned Business Groups Manlio Del Giudice, 2017-03-09 This book addresses the increasing prominence of family owned business groups and their potential to influence growth and development in the global economy Family businesses are not necessarily converging towards unitary models of corporate governance or organizational designs but remain heterogeneous in a global economy Empirical evidence on the developmental effects of family owned business groups is fragmented and inconclusive are there tangible differences between family owned business groups in emerging economies and developed countries Are there important variations across and between industries How have geopolitical circumstances shaped their activities In this book the author seeks alternative pluralistic and cross disciplinary approaches through economic management and organizational perspectives This book provides readers with a core understanding of how both corporate governance and business strategy are shaped by the institutional frameworks of markets as well as knowledge into how institutional context shapes the governance and strategies of family business groups It is an invaluable reference tool for scholars and students in the social sciences as well as professionals involved in strategic management issues within a knowledge management context

China Constructing Capitalism Michael Keith, Scott Lash, Jakob Arnoldi, Tyler Rooker, 2013-09-23 China has been growing at over ten per cent annually since 1978 but this has only come to very widespread notice in the past decade This received wisdom about China has been largely of two types both of which more or less understand China in the context of neoliberalism The more business or business studies oriented literature seems to argue that if China does not adapt the rule of clear and distinct property and contract law in short of Western institutions its economy will stall The second set of voices is more clearly from the left arguing that the Chinese economy and city is neo liberal For them China does not diverge widely from the Anglo American model that from 2008 has brought the world economy to its knees China Constructing Capitalism takes issue with these analyses The authors argue that it is not Western neo liberalism that is constructing the Chinese economy but instead that China is constructing its own version of capitalism The two central theses of their argument are economic life neo liberal economic life is individualized and disembedded while the China model is relational and situated urban change China has created a form of local state capitalism which stands in contrast to neoliberal versions of the city This book analyses China as a risk culture examining among others Chinese firms and political ties property development migrant urbanisms and share trading rooms It scrutinises the ever present shadow of the risk averse yet uncertainty creating state China Constructing Capitalism is a must read for social scientists policy makers and investors
