Constituting Our Constitution Constituting Ourselves:

UN Interventions and Democratization Carina Barbosa Gouvêa, Pedro H. Villas Bôas Castelo Branco, 2023-06-19 This book analyzes United Nations UN interventions in the process of constitution making in states undergoing political change It combines theoretical considerations of democracy and constitutionalism with empirical experiences and takes a critical perspective on the interventions developed by the United Nations in the processes of re democratization Presenting new empirical evidence on the substantive and procedural way in which the UN undertakes constitution building in Cambodia Bosnia and Herzegovina Afghanistan and East Timor the book illustrates difficulties of these practices such as the promotion of popular participation as well as an increasing Westernization and to meet local needs In consequence the authors call for reforms of the actions and structural methods the UN to better align a legitimate constitutional order with the rule of law and democratic values This book is aimed at scholars and students of politics and law who are interested in the prerequisites and conditions for further democratization in states undergoing political transformation

The Brennan Center Jorde Symposium on Constitutional Law, 2006 Socrates and Self-Knowledge Christopher Moore, 2015-10-09 In this book the first systematic study of Socrates reflections on self knowledge Christopher Moore examines the ancient precept Know yourself and drawing on Plato Aristophanes Xenophon and others reconstructs and reassesses the arguments about self examination personal ideals and moral maturity at the heart of the Socratic project What has been thought to be a purely epistemological or metaphysical inquiry turns out to be deeply ethical intellectual and social Knowing yourself is more than attending to your beliefs discerning the structure of your soul or recognizing your ignorance it is constituting yourself as a self who can be guided by knowledge toward the good life This is neither a wholly introspective nor a completely isolated pursuit we know and constitute ourselves best through dialogue with friends and critics This rich and original study will be of interest to researchers in the philosophy of Socrates selfhood and ancient thought

Authority Is Relational Charles Bingham, 2009-01-01 Written in an accessible and personal style this innovative study of authority in education examines scenarios of authority in ways that problematize augment and redefine prevalent ideas of how it works Usually seen as a thing that people have the author suggests that authority should be understood instead as a relation that happens between people which gets enacted in circuits where each participant has a role to play those circuits can include teachers students the books they read as well as former teachers and former students Drawing on ideas from psychoanalysis hermeneutics philosophy of language and the work of Jacques Derrida and Paulo Freire the book offers a useful new understanding of authority in education

Freedom and Responsibility in Neoplatonist Thought Ursula Coope, 2020-04-16 The Neoplatonists have a perfectionist view of freedom an entity is free to the extent that it succeeds in making itself good Free entities are wholly in control of themselves they are self determining self constituting and self knowing Neoplatonist philosophers argue that such freedom is only possible for non bodily things The human soul is free insofar as it rises above bodily things and engages in intellection but when it turns its desires to bodily things it is drawn under the sway of fate and becomes enslaved Ursula Coope discusses this notion of freedom and its relation to questions about responsibility She explains the important role of notions of self reflexivity in Neoplatonist accounts of both freedom and responsibility In Part I Coope sets out the puzzles Neoplatonist philosophers face about freedom and responsibility and explains how these puzzles arise from earlier discussions Part II explores the metaphysical underpinnings of the Neoplatonist notion of freedom concentrating especially on the views of Plotinus and Proclus In what sense if any is the ultimate first principle of everything the One free If everything else is under this ultimate first principle how can anything other than the One be free What is the connection between freedom and nonbodiliness Finally Coope considers in Part III questions about responsibility arising from this perfectionist view of freedom Why are human beings responsible for their behaviour in a way that other animals are not If we are enslaved when we act viciously how can we be to blame for our vicious actions and choices
