Helen Garner Monkey Grip:

Monkey Grip Helen Garner, 2008-03-03 Inner suburban Melbourne in the 1970s a world of communal living drugs music and love In this acclaimed first novel Helen Garner captures the fluid relationships of a community of friends who are living and loving in new ways Nora falls in love with Javo the junkie and together they try to make sense of their lives and the choices they have made But caught in an increasingly ambiguous relationship they are unable to let go and the harder they pull away from each other the tighter the monkey grip A lyrical rough edged novel full of warmth and uncompromising feeling The Sunday Age

The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel Nicholas Birns, Louis Klee, 2023-03-02 The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel provides a clear lively and accessible account of the novel in Australia The chapters of this book survey significant issues and developments in the Australian novel offer historical and conceptual frameworks and demonstrate what reading an Australian novel looks like in practice The book begins with novels by literary visitors to Australia and concludes with those by refugees In between the reader encounters the Australian novel in its splendid contradictoriness from nineteenth century settler fiction by women writers through to literary images of the Anthropocene from sexuality in the novels of Patrick White to Waanyi writer Alexis Wright s call for a sovereign First Nations literature This book is an invitation to students instructors and researchers alike to expand and broaden their knowledge of the complex histories and crucial present of the Australian novel

Everyday Revolutions Michelle Arrow, Angela Woollacott, 2019-08-30 The 1970s was a decade when matters previously considered private and personal became public and political These shifts not only transformed Australian politics they engendered far reaching cultural and social changes Feminists challenged man made norms and sought to recover lost histories of female achievement and cultural endeavour They made films picked up spanners and established printing presses The notion that the personal was political began to transform long held ideas about masculinity and femininity both in public and private life In the spaces between official discourses and everyday experience many sought to revolutionise the lives of Australian men and women Everyday Revolutions brings together new research on the cultural and social impact of the feminist and sexual revolutions of the 1970s in Australia Gay Liberation and Women s Liberation movements erupted challenging almost every aspect of Australian life The pill became widely available and sexuality was both celebrated and flaunted Campaigns to decriminalise abortion and homosexuality emerged across the country Activists set up women s refuges rape crisis centres and counselling services Governments responded to new demands for representation and rights appointing women s advisors and funding new services Everyday Revolutions is unique in its focus not on the activist or legislative achievements of the women s and gay and lesbian movements but on their cultural and social dimensions It is a diverse and rich collection of essays that reminds us that women s and gay liberation were revolutionary movements

How to End a Story Helen Garner,2025-03-11 For the first time ever collected here are all three volumes of the diaries of Helen Garner inviting readers into the world behind the novels and nonfiction of a literary force The name Helen Garner commands near universal acclaim A master of many literary forms Garner is best known for her frank unsparing and intricate portraits of ordinary people in difficult times New York Times But the inspiration for it all was her extensive collection of diaries fastidiously kept intricately written and delightfully dishy unspooling the inner lives of her insular world in bohemian Melbourne Now for the first time all three volumes of Garner's inimitable diaries are collected into one book Spanning more than two decades each finely etched volume reveals Garner like never before a fledgling author publishing her lightning rod debut novel in the late 70s in the throes of a consuming affair in the late 80s and clinging to a disintegrating marriage in the late 90s And all the while they bear witness to one of the world's great writers hard at work Devastatingly honest and disarmingly funny How to End a Story is a portrait of loss betrayal and the sheer force of a woman's anger but also of resilience quotidian moments of joy the immutable ties of motherhood and the regenerative power of a room of one's own

Claiming Space for Australian Women's Writing Devaleena Das,Sanjukta Dasgupta,2017-06-29 This volume explores the subterfuges strategies and choices that Australian women writers have navigated in order to challenge patriarchal stereotypes and assert themselves as writers of substance Contextualized within the pioneering efforts of white Aboriginal and immigrant Australian women in initiating an alternative literary tradition the text captures a wide range of multiracial Australian women authors insightful reflections on crucial issues such as war and silent mourning emergence of a Australian national heroine racial purity and Aboriginal motherhood communism and activism feminist rivalry sexual transgressions autobiography and art of letter writing city space and female subjectivity lesbianism gender implications of spatial categories placement and displacement dwelling and travel location and dislocation and female body politics Claiming Space for Australian Women's Writing tracks Australian women authors varied journeys across cultural political and racial borders in the center of contemporary political discourse

True Stories Helen Garner,2008-09-29 Helen Garner visits the morgue and goes cruising on a Russian ship She sees women giving birth and gets the sack for teaching her students about sex She attends a school dance and a gun show She writes about dreaming about turning fifty and the storm caused by The First Stone Her story on the murder of the two year old Daniel Valerio wins her a Walkley Award Garner looks at the world with a shrewd and sympathetic eye Her non fiction with its many voices is always passionate and compelling True Stories is an extraordinary book spanning twenty five years of work by one of Australia s great writers Monkey grip.
