Annual Review and Forecast of Utah Coal Production and Distribution — 2008 Michael D. Vanden Berg,2010-03 Utah s coal industry remained steady in 2008 with production totaling 24.3 million short tons for the second straight year Production losses resulting from the closure of Utah American's deep Aberdeen mine and difficult mining conditions at the company's West Ridge operation were made up for by increased production at Canyon Fuel's Dugout Canyon Skyline and SUFCO mines. With the economy running strong for much of the year, employment averages increased 4.5% mostly on the anticipation of full scale longwall mining at Hiawatha Company's Bear Canyon mine. The strong economy also helped the average price for a ton of Utah coal reach a 25 year high of 27.78. Distribution of Utah coal remained nearly steady in 2008 at 24.8 million tons while out of state coal imports increased by 68% with most coal going to the Bonanza power plant in eastern Utah.

Case Histories and Use of FRP for Prestressing Applications Raafat El-Hacha, S. H. Rizkalla, 2007

Fiber reinforced polymer (FRP) composite materials have been proposed for use in lieu of steel for prestressing applications. The use of FRP has been growing rapidly in recent years. FRP provides options and benefits not available using traditional materials. The promise of FRP materials lies in their high strength, lightweight, noncorrosive, nonconducting, and nonmagnetic properties. In 2005, ACI Committee 440 Fiber Reinforced Polymer Reinforcement published ACI 440.4R-04 Prestressing Concrete Structures with FRP Tendons as one of several guides in ACI's Emerging Technology Series to provide recommendation for the use of FRP materials based on available test data, technical reports, and limited field applications. The aim of this document is to help practitioners implement FRP technology while providing testimony that design and construction with FRP materials systems is rapidly moving from emerging to mainstream technology.
