what we call ecology is a co affectivity the mutuality of affecting and being affected on the part of species biological kingdoms ecosystems etc Here Marjolein Oele melds biology and ontology in new and creative ways enriching both fields Her book performs the very theme it explores it stages a co affective relation between philosophy and the life sciences Michael Marder author of Plant Thinking A Philosophy of Vegetal Life Dwellings of Enchantment Bénédicte Meillon,2020-10-27 Dwellings of Enchantment Writing and Reenchanting the Earth offers ecocritical and eco-poetic readings that focus on multispecies dwellings of enchantment and reenchant our rapport with the more than human world It sheds light on the marvelous entanglements between humans and other life forms coexisting with us entanglements that when fully perceived call onto humans to shift perspectives on both the causes and solutions to current ecological crises Working against the disenchantment of humans relationships with and perceptions of the world entailed by a modern ontology this book illustrates the power of eco-poetics to attune humans to the vibrant matter both within and outside of us Braiding indigenous with non indigenous worldviews this book tackles eco-poetics emerging from varying locations in the world It underscores the postmodernist re-mythologizing processes going on in many eco-poetic texts via magical realist modes and mythopoeia

What a Mushroom Lives For Michael J. Hathaway,2023-11-07 How the prized matsutake mushroom is remaking human communities in China and providing new ways to understand human and more than human worlds What a Mushroom Lives For pushes today s mushroom renaissance in compelling new directions For centuries Western science has promoted a human and animal centric framework of what counts as action agency movement and behavior But as Michael Hathaway shows the world making capacities of mushrooms radically challenge this orthodoxy by revealing the lively dynamism of all forms of life The book tells the fascinating story of one particularly prized species the matsutake and the astonishing ways it is silently yet powerfully shaping worlds from the Tibetan plateau to the mushrooms final destination in Japan Many Tibetan and Yi people have dedicated their lives to picking and selling this mushroom a delicacy that drives a multibillion dollar global trade network and that still grows only in the wild despite scientists intensive efforts to cultivate it in urban labs But this is far from a simple story of humans exploiting a passive edible commodity Rather the book reveals the complex symbiotic ways that mushrooms plants humans and other animals interact It explores how the world looks to the mushrooms as well as to the people who have grown rich harvesting them A surprise filled journey into science and human culture this exciting and provocative book shows how fungi shape our planet and our lives in strange diverse and often unimaginable ways Making Kin with Trees Solvejg Nitzke,2025-09-30 This book analyzes how trees act as mediators of interspecies relationships in popular science writing and creative nonfiction Making Kin with Trees argues that trees emerge as agents of arboreal poetics shaping not only fictional but also material interactions Following how speculative care practices infuse scientific and poetic texts formatting practices of reading sensing knowing and communicating with trees while affirming both cultural and scientific meaning making processes This book shows how arboreal thinking connects and might ultimately require breaking down the barrier between fact and fiction human and plant onlooker and artwork This book will be of interest to audiences based in fields including environmental humanities science and technology studies and ecocriticism and everyone engaged in science communication and interested in the relationship between scientific fact and narrative
