The Palgrave Handbook of Transformational Giftedness for Education Robert J. Sternberg, Don Ambrose, Sareh Karami, 2022-04-23 This handbook examines what education would look like if it prepared gifted students to transform the world to make it a better place for all not just for those who receive extra resources from schools in return for being labeled as gifted The editors explore how transformationally gifted people can seek to make the world a better and more just place they try to make a positive meaningful and possibly enduring contribution to changing things in the world that are not working They do not view giftedness merely as a transaction whereby in exchange for being labeled as gifted they accrue benefits to themselves such as a more prestigious education more income or residence in a more exclusive community The overarching aim of this book is to present conceptions of what identification and instruction of the gifted would look like if the focus of gifted education was transformational rather than transactional What if gifted education did not focus so much on acceleration vs enrichment or pull out versus in class integration but rather on how to be gifted in giving back in using one s gifts to create a better world

Cross,2013-12-30 How can we design schools that energetically promote intellectual development while also attending to the social emotional and ethical growth of students In today s frenzied climate of accountability driven school reform it is difficult to establish anything more than achievement of superficial knowledge and skill Fortunately there is a vibrant example of holistic student centered education that engenders dynamic multidimensional student growth The

Roeper School enables students to develop strong intrinsic motivation as they discover aspirations and develop talents consistent with those aspirations. Simultaneously from a very young age students take considerable responsibility for their own actions and for the processes that go on in their school. Following the Roeper philosophy each student generates a long term sense of purposeful direction, a strong sense of intrapersonal awareness, impressive creative and critical thinking skills, and a finely tuned sense of ethical responsibility. Upon graduation Roeper students are well prepared to find or create highly productive niches in the world of work and rewarding personal lives while serving as mature ethical citizens of a complex 21st century globalized society. This book includes descriptions of the multidimensional education the Roeper School provides. The perspectives in the volume are diverse, coming from leading researchers and theorists in the field of gifted education as well as teachers, administrators, alumni, and current students from the school itself. Creative Intelligence in the 21st Century Don Ambrose, Robert J. Sternberg, 2016-07-15. How can creative individuals and societies adapt to complex 21st century conditions? Will civilizations thrive or collapse in the decades to come if they are not creative enough, or if they are too creative? Interest in these questions is growing, however, until now there has been inadequate understanding of the socioeconomic and cultural trends and issues that influence creativity. This book provides that understanding while yielding insights from many of the world's leading creativity researchers and educational experts. The book begins with a big picture interdisciplinary overview of the socioeconomic, cultural, and technological pressures emerging from 21st century globalization and describes some ways in which those pressures simultaneously suppress, distort, and invigorate creativity in general and creative education in particular. After that, prominent scholars of creativity and education use their impressive knowledge bases to clarify how we can adjust our thoughts and actions in order to give ourselves the best possible chances for success in this complex world. The world's problems are complex, messy, and seemingly intractable, but history tells us that human creativity finds solutions to even the most daunting problems. This book collects perspectives on creative development from many of the most respected scholars and educators working in creativity and innovation today, helping chart a path forward for creativity in the 21st century. Jonathan Plucker, Julian C. Stanley, Endowed Professor of Talent Development, Johns Hopkins University. A volume taking on macro opportunities and macroproblems by editors Ambrose and Sternberg is a treat for readers who want to think big and think forward. Kick back for an imaginative journey that reaches back to early global insights but propels us solidly into the 21st century and beyond
