New Directions in the Analysis of Multimodal

Discourse Terry D. Royce, Wendy Bowcher, 2013-01-11 New Directions in the Analysis of Multimodal Discourse offers a comprehensive international view of multimodal discourse and presents new directions for research and application in this growing field. With contributions from top scholars around the world, this work opens up the field of multimodal discourse analysis as it covers a wide range of interests such as computational linguistics, education, ideology, and media discourse. The range and scope of the chapters in this book provide groundbreaking insights into exploring and accounting for the various facets of multimodality in a range of texts and contexts. Initial chapters specifically aim to tackle theoretical issues, while subsequent chapters focus on important research areas such as writing and graphology, genre, ideology, computational concordancing, literacy, and cross-cultural and cross-linguistic issues. In the final chapters, an emphasis is placed on the educational implications of multimodality in first and second language contexts, a particularly new and interesting contribution.

English in Australia, 1993

English Alive Jan Cousins, Peter Stanley, Luke Jackson, Catherine Reid, 2006 English Alive 3 is the centrepiece of a groundbreaking program for English in the Middle Years. The program focuses strongly on reading and writing and on associated thinking skills and strategies. Beginning with the premise that Middle Years students need to be engaged and stimulated before they can learn effectively, the program recognises that students learn in different ways and draw on multiple intelligences. English Alive 3 is designed to encourage deep learning; students investigate a knowledge area in many layers so that they build deep understanding and develop a range of skills. Reading and writing are taught through a thematic workshop approach using high-interest texts and activities that really teach students the how of literary, everyday, and visual texts. The Jacaranda fiction series is also part of the program. This provides both motivated and reluctant readers with stimulating fiction, some with SOSE Humanities HSIE links. The titles in the series are suitable as set texts or for literature circles and wide reading programs.

Writing for Life Primary English Teaching Association (Australia), 1988 In recent years, there has been renewed interest in writing in the primary schools, and the process approach has made a big impact on children and their teachers. Yet are we making the most of this approach? Is there not a risk that process writing will just be identified with story writing and forfeit its potential for writing in all areas of the curriculum? Are our children learning to use the different kinds of writing that they will need in the course of their education and their lives

The contributors to this book who include several practising teachers argue that children should be taught how to write in the various genres or kinds of writing that are needed Drawing on their own experiences they show how teachers can develop their teaching of writing to realise the full potential of the process approach and at the same time maintain its
