Properties of Matter

Properties of Matter

QUESTIONS

Are you able distinguish, how these questions are asked?

- Which one(s) among the following physical properties?
- Which one(s) among the following chemical properties?

What are Physical Properties?

Such as the color, the shape, the size, the mass, the volume, the boiling point, the melting point, the density, etc.

If physical properties of a substance are observed without changing the identity of the substance, then these are called physical properties. For example, you can observe the color, shape, size, mass, volume, boiling point, melting point, density, etc. without changing the identity of the substance.

Many of the physical properties of substances have units. For example, mass has units of kilograms, length has units of meters, etc.

Some physical properties depend on the state of the substance. For example, the boiling point of water is 100°C at 1 atm pressure. The boiling point of water is different at different pressures. Some physical properties of the substance are called physical properties. They depend on the state of the substance. They show that the matter has definite mass, volume, and shape. It is the quality of property of matter. It is always the same.
