 41. In a solid, particles are packed together in relatively fixed positions. The particles vibrate about a fixed point. In a liquid, particles are close together but can flow around one another. In a gas, particles are at great distances from one another, compared to the particles of liquids and solids.
 42. The composition of a pure substance is the same throughout and does not vary from sample to sample. Pure substances include elements and compounds. A mixture contains more than one substance and can vary in composition from one sample to another and sometimes within different parts of the same sample.
 43. Although energy can be absorbed or released in a change, it is not destroyed or created. It simply takes a different form.

43. Homogeneous mixtures are uniform in composition; heterogeneous mixtures are not.
44. An element cannot be broken down, but water can be decomposed into hydrogen and oxygen by passing an electrical current through it (electrolysis).
