A Pestle Analysis Of The Uae:

A Strategic Analysis of the Construction Industry in the United Arab Emirates Viktor Gorgenl.,nder,2011-02 The construction industry is one of the most booming industries in the world In particular in the United Arab Emirates this industry has experienced a constant growth over the course of the last few years Driven by the UAE s oil wealth the country has witnessed an unmatched development and transformation Oil revenues have lead to a driving construction boom and completely change the face of the state The construction industry is still one of the engines of economic growth in the UAE One of the highest concentrations of cranes in the world speaks volumes about the incredible pace of construction taking place particularly in Dubai and Abu Dhabi but also in the other emirates The fact that about 30 000 or 24 percent of the world s 125 000 construction cranes are currently operating in the region speaks for itself The UAE s construction projects stands out clearly from building projects in other parts of the world due to the fact that there is no constraint on constructional imagination and there is no place in the world where construction moves as fast as in the UAE With some of the most innovative mega projects such as Burj Khalifa the tallest building in the world or The Palm Jumeirah The Palm Jebel Ali and The Palm Deira the world s largest man made islands with epithets of world s biggest best and tallest the UAE construction industry remains unbeaten The construction industry is a complex environment in which each organization is faced with numerous opportunities and threats This book provides an in depth analysis of the fast growing construction industry in the UAE while scanning the construction business for opportunities and threats This book implements the PESTEL analysis that will be used to analyze the UAE s construction industry The main objective of the research reported in this book is to identify the factors in the macro environment that might affect an organization Having the PESTEL context this output is used to execute a SWOT analysis The PESTEL factors combined with external micro environmental factors are classified as opportunities and threats in a SWOT analysis Thus this research also aims to identify the opportunities and threats in the construction business This study does not assess company s internal strengths and weaknesses Through strategic analysis of the UAE s construction business this book creates an adequate framework that helps participants of the construction business to take advantage of opportunities while protecting them from threats

Strategic Assessment of Drones for a Delivery Company into the United Arab Emirates Market Mohamed Radwan,2018-06-07 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2018 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade B University of Northampton language English abstract This report aims to provide an advice to Drones for delivery company on its plan to enter the UAE market to provide delivery service In order to take the proper decision the report studies the external environment of the UAE market using PESTLE framework following by analyzing the Political Economic and Legal factors The finding from the analysis strongly recommends Drones for Delivery to enter the UAE market and found it a very good option The political situation is stable within the UAE and the government is supportive for investment in the country

The investors considered UAE one of the safest places in the region and attractive for investment. The economic situation is good in spite of the decrease of oil prices which affected the country income badly. The UAE plan for depending on the green economy as a replacement of oil supported it to come over this situation. Legal factors will be challengeable factors for the company as the regulation which established Implementation from the General civil aviation Authority regarding the flight conditions of the drones will limit the usage of drones and the company has to find some alternative solutions to reduce the effect of these regulations.

The Making of UAE Foreign Policy Gaith A. Abdulla,2014 This paper examines the foreign policy production of the United Arab Emirates UAE through the Dynamic Process Model DPM a conceptual framework combining elements of international relations IR theory and foreign policy analysis With a focus on the process of identity construction the motives and values that drive foreign policy production can be better contextualized This paper utilizes many of these existing theoretical models in a novel form to create a framework that is more useful to studying the IR and foreign policy production of small states This framework is presented as the DPM and will be used to analyze the identity construction of the UAE a process central to understanding foreign policy production There were three reasons to choose the UAE as a case study firstly the desire to study a possible shift in the underlying dynamics behind the country s identity construction as a nation state following the death of its founding father and first president Sheikh Zayed Bin Sultan Al Nahyan Secondly the UAE is an interesting example of a re examination of changing international relations dynamics specifically the growing self awareness and assertiveness of small states especially Arabian Gulf States AGS regarding their growing political and economic influence both regionally and globally Thirdly there is a weakness when it comes to the integration between IR theory and foreign policy analysis This gap is most apparent in the study of small state foreign policy like the UAE This paper uses the DPM to inform a structural analysis of UAE foreign policy FP production that will reveal a shift in identity construction and domestic socio political structures from the Zayed 1971 2004 to the post Zayed era It asks how the identity of the DMA is constructed dynamically as it interacts with external and internal structures through the process of articulating national identity as national interest As Richard Devetak notes it is important to recognize that political identities do not exist prior to the differentiation of self and other The DPM sees FP production as a form of identity construction by combining this functional understanding of sovereign nation states systems theory FP5 literature and IR theory

Case Study Japan Airlines Svenja Stellmann,2010-12-07 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 0 Northumbria University course Strategic Management and Leadership language English abstract Japan Airlines Corporation JAL is the leading full service airline in Asia operating in the domestic and international passenger air transport industry However in 2009 JAL s financial situation is alarming 2009 was completed by a 51bn operating loss representing a decrease of 140bn from previous year In comparison JAL s major competitor All Nippon Airways manages to stay in the black This means JAL s competitive position is clearly in danger Even worse if JAL does not find a new strategic option immediately they are in danger of going bankrupt

soon This paper intends to find such a strategic option to guarantee future success of the airline A thorough strategic analysis including an internal and external analysis is used to find out the key strategic issues Afterwards three possible strategic options are discussed The most promising option is put forward and its implementation issues are thoroughly discussed
