Abstract

Environmental awareness is to understand the fragility of our environment and the importance of its protection. Promoting environmental awareness is an easy way to become an environmental steward and participate in creating a brighter future for our children. The study aimed to examine the environmental awareness among secondary school students. The investigator adopted survey method to study the environmental awareness among secondary school students. For this study a sample of 300 secondary students from six Govt and Private schools which are situated in and around Patna district in Bihar were selected by the investigator using simple random sampling technique. The findings reveal that there is no significant environmental awareness among secondary school students.

1. Introduction

Environmental Education involves the process of recognizing values and clarifying concepts in order to develop skills and attitudes necessary to understand and appreciate the interrelatedness among man, his culture and his bio physical surrounding (UNEP, 2012). It is in this light that students understanding and level of awareness on various environmental concepts and problems is important.

Environmental awareness is defined as the sum total of responses that people make to various thematic aspects of the construct environmental education. In simple terms it means knowledge and understanding of facts and concepts related to environment and consequences of various environmental problems like pollution, population explosion, deforestation, ecological disruption, energy crises etc. Environment has become the concern of all academicians, intellectuals, scientists, policy makers and government across the continents. Widespread and systematic concern for environmental issues has grown world over. The U.N. World conference on the environment in Stockholm in 1972, the Earth Summit held in Rio de Janeiro in 1992, the Global Forum 1992 and the activities organized by the international NGO forum, show that environment is in the agenda of International Community (Toili, 2007).

Following this detrimental effects resulting from environmental degradation, it has become more important to find a preventive way slow down the effects and eventually

Environmental Awareness Among Secondary School Teachers R.K. Anuradha, Naraginti Amareswaran, 2013 True education needs training the individual to discriminate between good and evil on the level of physical response In order to direct the child correctly It is essential that the teacher must know the goal which the child is required to reach The Mudaliar commission asserts the integrated growth of a child consists in the training of character to participate creatively as citizens in the emerging democratic social order Education is a life long process and goes on from cradle to the cremation It is wrong to say So and So s education is complete Education is never complete Education about environment is a study where components of environment bio physical and socio cultural are investigated through the discipline of physical biological sciences and social science under the umbrella of environmental sciences to further improve the quality of human life and protect the environment Environmental Awareness and Secondary Students G. S. Shivakumar,2013-04 Environmental Education will enable every child to grow up in a healthy home school and community In fact the future development of our children and of course their world depends on their enjoying good health For this to take place however the Environmental Education teachers need to be properly equipped with not only updated knowledge on environment but also effective strategies of teaching to drive home the message of environmental protection and conservation among the students Thus the author investigated scientifically the nature of environmental awareness attitude and knowledge among the secondary school students Environmental Awareness Among Senior Secondary Student Shrikrishna Mishra,Badri Yadav,2012 Environment is in general terms a surrounding or conditions influencing development and growth of all the living beings For the last several decades nature and environment have always been a source of human reflection and investigation as the environmental pollution has reached to such a critical stage that we find ourselves passing through an irreversible climate change and are not able to retrieve the previous climate back The Educational Review ,1998 The Progress of Education ,1996-08

Principles Of Environmental Education Shazli Khan,2013 The key to successful Environmental Education is the classroom teacher The effectiveness of Environmental Education relies heavily on the knowledge skills and attitudes of the educator It is essential the teacher should himself be fully aware of Environmental problems and day to day activities related to the environment Education and awareness among the teachers are the most effective forces that can save our besieged environment Since Environment protection and conservation is very important for the promotion of sustainable development the role of the teacher in facilitating the environmental awareness among the students research and pre service and in service training of the teachers assumes considerable significance which has its relevance in this context today Today there is an urgent need of generating awareness about environment and the related issues and problems of the environment among all the sections of the society The present book is an humble attempt to measure the awareness of environment among school teachers and especially among secondary school teachers A Study of Environment Awareness of Secondary School Teachers Kukati Leelavathi,Purini Neeraja,2014-01 Based on this Book people should understand the environmental awareness among secondary school teachers in chittoor district And also able to know the teachers attitude about environmental awareness In this many tools were used to collect information regarding environment awareness On the light of the study we can conclude that the locality and gender didn't make much difference in Environmental Awareness Where as the science and Maths students are slightly more aware than language and History teachers Especially we should create more Awareness among the history optional teachers Finally I submit that it is no more unrealistic than those who think that the current model of technology development can sustain us for ever We are collapsing and taking the earth down with us We have no option but think boldly of different ideas if we want to survive in this world then without any hesitation we need to protect the environment This book can give an idea of further research regarding environment awareness for the freshers in the field of research Propagation of Environmental Awareness Through SEED Project Arun T. Ram,2014-12-30 Today we are faced with an environmental crisis of massive proportions Environmental degradation is one of the major hurdles faced by the present generation Natural resources have been passed on from generations and it is our duty to protect preserve and transfer it to our future generations Public awareness is one of the major tools in the environmental protection and environmental programmes have to play a major role in spreading awareness among the public The present study analyses the propagation of Environmental Awareness through SEED project SEED Student Empowerment for Environmental Development project initiated by the leading newspaper Mathrubhumi in association with Federal Bank aims to create awareness among the growing student community Environmental Awareness is not fully depends upon Environmental Education but programmes like SEED constitute a very effective role in creating Environmental Awareness SEED Programme promotes a sustainable Environmental Awareness among Secondary School Students need to be encouraged and more leadership opportunities must be provided to promote Environmental Ethics among them Integrating Environmental Considerations Into Economic Policy Making Processes: Institutional arrangements and mechanisms at sector level : country studies on the agriculture sector in Malaysia, the mining sector in Papua New Guinea, and the tea sector in SriLanka United Nations.
