Waskan,2006 In this groundbreaking book Jonathan Waskan challenges cognitive science s dominant model of mental representation and proposes a novel well devised alternative The traditional view in the cognitive sciences uses a linguistic propositional model of mental representation This logic based model of cognition informs and constrains both the classical tradition of artificial intelligence and modeling in the connectionist tradition It falls short however when confronted by the frame problem the lack of a principled way to determine which features of a representation must be updated when new information becomes available Proposed alternatives including the imagistic model have not so far resolved this problem Waskan proposes instead the Intrinsic Cognitive Models ICM hypothesis which argues that representational states can be conceptualized as the cognitive equivalent of scale models Waskan argues further that the proposal that humans harbor and manipulate these cognitive counterparts to scale models offers the only viable explanation for what most clearly differentiates humans from other creatures their capacity to engage in truth preserving manipulation of representations The ICM hypothesis he claims can be distinguished from sentence based accounts of truth preservation in a way that is fully compatible with what is known about the brain Waskan also develops a new account of explanation grounded in the ICM hypothesis as an alternative to the traditional deductive nomological model which he claims suffers the same shortcomings as other sentence based accounts of representation and inference Waskan s Model model of explanation resolves these problems in a way that no other account of explanation can Theological Investigations Christian J. Barrigar,2005

The Mind, the Body and the World Brendan Wallace,2007 Concerning the cognitive or information processing approach to psychology this book asks what it is how it originated and whether and how desirable it is to look for ways that go beyond it International Journal for the Study of Southern African Literature and Languages ,2003 Educational Measurement Robert L. Brennan,2006-08-30 The importance of this fourth edition of Educational Measurement is to extensively update and extend the topics treated in the previous three editions As such the fourth edition documents progress in the field and provides critical guidance to the efforts of new generations of researchers and practitioners This new edition of Educational Measurement is edited by Robert Brennan and jointly sponsored by ACE and the National Council on Measurement in Education It provides in depth treatments of important measurement topics and the chapter authors are acknowledged experts in their respective fields NATIONAL COUNCIL ON MEASUREMENT IN EDUCATION is an organization incorporated for scientific educational literary and charitable purposes i e advancing of the science of measurement instruments and procedures improving applications of measurement and disseminating knowledge about measurement theory techniques and instrumentation
