Eu Korea Relations In A Changing World:

EU-Korea Relations in a Changing World Leuven Centre for Global Governance Studies,2013 The European Union, Emerging Global Business and Human Rights Aleydis Nissen,2022-11-17 Emerging and developing states are home to powerful corporations capable of deploying economic activities on a global scale through the rapid pace of technological change and globalisation But such corporations have to date been largely overlooked in the field of business and human rights Treatment of such corporations has typically been in the context of supply chain studies as subsidiaries of corporations from economically developed Western states This book takes a radically different approach It aims to investigate the conditions under which the European Union and its Member States regulate and remedy human rights violations by corporations from emerging and developing states Stemming from the hypothesis that the EU intends to play a central role Aleydis Nissen explores how the EU and its Member States attempt to ensure that EU based businesses are not undercut by emerging competition drawing on global examples to illustrate this developing phenomenon Korea's Relations with Her Neighbors in a Changing World Hak-chun Kim,1993 EU Environmental Governance Amandine Orsini,Eleni Kavvatha,2020-09-13 This book presents an overview of the field of environmental law and policies within the European Union from theoretical foundations to major issues and applied governance solutions Drawing on expertise from renowned academics and practitioners from different disciplines EU Environmental Governance Current and Future Challenges helps readers to understand the main legal political and economic issues of environmental protection since the adoption of the Paris Agreement by the European Union in 2015 until the 2020 Brexit European Green Deal and coronavirus outbreak The authors examine a broad range of sensitive and topical environmental issues including climate change air pollution waste management and circular economy nuclear waste biodiversity agriculture chemicals nanotechnology the environmental impacts of trade and environmental conflicts presenting both current insights and future challenges Overall this volume exposes the reader to a vast array of empirical case studies which will bolster their training and help tackle the environmental challenges faced by Europe today This book is a valuable resource for students researchers and policymakers across a broad range of fields including environmental law and policies environmental economics climate science and environmental sociology Opening to Omnilateralism Wolfgang PAPE,2021-03-11 Opening to Omnilateralism After a century of western inspired multi lateralism its much criticised 75 years old stronghold the UN needs a new narrative omni lateralism The right vehicle is omnibus for and by all firstly to widen the way for input of more ideas and good practices of non Western origin and secondly to include non state actors as legitimate stakeholders in global governance Some trends already signal an opening towards omnilateralism enhancing global governance in the COP by adding Eastern understanding of cycles in nature to protect the environment e g in circular economies and a wider appreciation of holism beyond the rather linear individualistic thinking of Western societies also accountable groups of civil society more trusted than officials driven by narrow national interest increasingly enrich deliberations about climate change and other global problems that need global solutions These require East West and North South cooperation as currently obvious in the urgent cross border exchanges among experts to combat the pandemic and save lives and livelihood worldwide Globalisation has elevated millions out of poverty However narrow minded politicians still claim national sovereignty and parochial interests against global solutions for the common good while the Westphalian nation is becoming a historic aberration Almost all governments nowadays claim democracy but respect for its principles is falling Democracy must adapt to each level of governance from local national regional to global More direct democracy may suit the directly informed local stage The higher the stage and the wider the impact the more expertise and responsibility with all stakeholders is needed to reach the common global good i e omnilaterally

Korea in a Changing World Süng-ju Han, 1995 The EU's trade strategy shift from multilateralism to bilateralism. A case study on TTIP Benedikt Weingärtner, 2017-06-26 Master s Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Politics Topic Globalization Political Economics grade sehr gut College of Europe language English abstract Foreign commercial policy represents a major domain of European integration and an exclusive policy competence for the European Union The strategy focus and practical approach of this EU trade policy has been continuously adapted to the new circumstances in an ever more globalised world economy Thus the EU uses its foreign trade policy not just for mere economic ends but also as a tool to strengthen its global political influence Having been a champion of multilateral trade negotiations in the framework of the World Trade Organisation WTO throughout the 1990s the has EU changed this strategic orientation by the mid 2000s shifting its trade policy focus from a multilateral to a bilateral strategy and initiated preferential free trade agreements FTA with countries and regions all over the world Among them the one with the largest size was the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP with the United States of America launched in 2013 Given the huge importance of the EU as a player in global trade it seems relevant to examine from a political scientific perspective what have been the main reasons drivers and motivations behind this enormous policy shift I argue that external factors domestic interests and institutional dynamics have collectively contributed to the reorientation of EU trade policy from multi to bilateralism I will test this hypothesis by means of three theoretical approaches neorealism as a systemic theory liberalism as a theory with a domestic focus and institutionalism to examine the role of the most important EU institution in trade policy the European Commission In order to get a more profound analysis of the main actors and motivations as driving forces of EU trade policy I will furthermore use a case study on the both in ambition and size unrivalled bilateral Transatlantic Trade and Investment

Partnership as it due to its sheer economic and political impact on the both partners involved but also on the rest of the world provides best significant insights of processes on all three levels of analysis of this paper In a nutshell the global power shift for the benefit of emerging powers and to the detriment of Europe in combination with strong economic interest groups within the EU seeking for market access all over the world as well as self interests norms and processes within the European Commission have altogether contributed to the change of course in EU trade policy towards bilateralism
