Being Interrupted Al Barrett, Ruth Harley, 2020-11-30 Beginning with a Street Nativity Play that didn't end as planned and finishing with an open ended conversation in the midst of the COVID 19 pandemic Being Interrupted locates an institutionally anxious Church of England within the wider contexts of divisions of race and class in the ruins of empire alongside ongoing gender inequalities the marginalization of children and catastrophic ecological breakdown In the midst of this bleak picture Al Barrett and Ruth Harley open a door to a creative disruption of the status quo from the outside in the in breaking of the wild reality of the Kingdom of God Through careful and unsettling readings in Mark's gospel alongside stories from a multicultural outer estate in east Birmingham they paint a vivid picture of an alternative economy for the Church's life and mission which begins with transformative encounters with neighbours and strangers at the edges of our churches our neighbourhoods and our imaginations and offers new possibilities for repentance and resurrection

Queer TV China Jamie J. Zhao, 2023-02-16 The 2010s have seen an explosion in popularity of Chinese television featuring same sex intimacies LGBTQ identified celebrities and explicitly homoerotic storylines even as state regulations on vulgar and immoral content grow more prominent This emerging queer TV China culture has generated diverse cyber and transcultural queer fan communities Yet these seemingly progressive televisual productions and practices are caught between multilayered sociocultural and political economic forces and interests Taking queer as a verb an adjective and a noun this volume counters the Western centric conception of homosexuality as the only way to understand nonnormative identities and same sex desire in the Chinese and Sinophone worlds It proposes an analytical framework of queer ing TV China to explore the power of various TV genres and narratives censorial practices and fandoms in queer desire voicing and subject formation within a largely heteropatriarchal society Through examining nine cases contesting the ideals of gender sexuality Chineseness and TV production and consumption the book also reveals the generative negotiative ways in which queerness works productively within and against mainstream seemingly heterosexual oriented televisual industries and fan spaces This cornucopia of fresh and original essays opens our eyes to the burgeoning queer television culture thriving beneath official media crackdowns in China As diverse as the phenomenon it analyses Queer TV China is the spark that will ignite a prairie fire of future scholarship Chris Berry Professor of Film Studies King s College London This timely volume explores the various possibilities and nuances of queerness in Chinese TV and fannish culture Challenging the dichotomy of positive and negative representations of gender and sexual minorities Queer TV China argues for a multilayered and queer informed understanding of the production consumption censorship and recreation of Chinese television today Geng Song Associate Professor and Director of Translation Program University of Hong Kong

Communication in International Development Florencia Enghel, Jessica Noske-Turner, 2018-05-23 International development stakeholders harness communication with two broad purposes to do good via communication for development and media assistance and to communicate do gooding via public relations and information This book unpacks various ways in which different efforts to do good are combined with attempts to look good be it in the eyes of donor constituencies at large or among more specific audiences such as journalists or intra agency decision makers Development communication studies have tended to focus primarily on interventions aimed at doing good among recipients at the expense of examining the extent to which promotion and reputation management are elements of those practices This book establishes the importance of interrogating the tensions generated by overlapping uses of communication to do good and to look good within international development cooperation The book is a critical text for students and scholars in the areas of development communication and international development and will also appeal to practitioners working in international aid who are directly affected by the challenges of communicating for and about development
