Critique Of Everyday Life Henri Lefebvre:

Critique of Everyday Life Henri Lefebvre, 2014-05-06 The three volume text by Henri Lefebvre is perhaps the richest most prescient work about modern capitalism to emerge from one of the twentieth century's greatest philosophers and is now available for the first time in one complete volume. Written at the birth of post war consumerism, Critique was an inspiration for the 1968 student revolution in France. It is a founding text of cultural studies and a major influence on the fields of contemporary philosophy, geography, sociology, architecture, political theory and urbanism. Lefebvre takes as his starting point and guide the trivial details of quotidian experience, an experience colonized by the commodity shadowed by inauthenticity, yet remaining the only source of resistance and change. This is an enduringly radical text, untimely today only in its intransigence and optimism.

Critique of Everyday Life: Foundations for a sociology of the everyday Henri Lefebvre, 1991 Henri Lefebvre's three volume Critique of Everyday Life is perhaps the richest most prescient work by one of the twentieth century's greatest philosophers The first volume presented an introduction to the concept of everyday life Written twenty years later this second volume attempts to establish the necessary formal instruments for analysis and outlines a series of theoretical categories within everyday life such as the theory of the semantic field and the theory of moments The moment at which the book appeared 1961 was significant both for France and for Lefebvre himself he was just beginning his career as a lecturer in sociology at Strasbourg and then at Nanterre and many of the ideas which were influential in the events leading up to 1968 are to be found in this critique In its impetuous often undisciplined prose the reader may catch a glimpse of how charismatic a lecturer Lefebvre must have been

Space, Difference, Everyday Life Kanishka Goonewardena, Stefan Kipfer, Richard Milgrom, Christian Schmid, 2008-02-19 In the past fifteen years Henri Lefebvre's reputation has catapulted into the stratosphere and he is now considered an equal to some of the greats of European social theory Bourdieu Deleuze Harvey In particular his work has revitalized urban studies geography and planning via concepts like the social production of space the right to the city everyday life and global urbanization Lefebvre's massive body of work has generated two main schools of thought one that is political economic and another that is more culturally oriented and poststructuralist in tone Space Difference and Everyday Life merges these two schools of thought into a unified Lefebvrian approach to contemporary urban issues and the nature of our spatialized social structures

The Politics of Time Peter Osborne, 2011-01-10 If Aristotle sought to understand time through change might we not reverse the procedure and seek to understand change through time Once we do this argues Peter Osborne it soon becomes clear that ideas such as avant garde modern postmodern and tradition which are usually only treated as markets for empirically discrete periods movements or styles are best understood as categories of historical totalization More specifically Osborne claims such ideas involve distinct temporalizations of history giving rise to conflicting politics of time His book begins with a consideration of the main aspects of modernity and develops through a series of critical engagements with the major twentieth century positions in the philosophy of history He concludes with a fascinating history of the avant garde intervention into the temporality of everyday life in surrealism the situationists and the work of Henri Lefebvre

Other spaces, plural narratives of place in Berlin's SO 36 Ramirez, Andres, 2015-06-19 The heightened environmental awareness that defines our contemporary urban age is both a challenge and an opportunity for urban planners and designers In order to acquire perspective context and leverage city makers must access the intangible realms of meaning to investigate the nature of social life and its relationship to space In response to provocative spatial discourse from Lefebvre Foucault and the Situationists International Other Spaces plural narratives of place in Berlin's SO36 explores the application of theory in today's broad and increasingly interdisciplinary planning and design practice Deeply rooted in the philosophy of space the concept of otherness is presented as a distinctive critical element and promising tool for contemporary urban analysis As a source of spatial knowledge otherness raises issues of relativity and reveals the layered multi dimensional reality of the urban environment Both physical and symbolic it complements conventional research methodologies with a qualitative creative and proactive element Unlocking a place based imagination may be an instrumental tool for more responsible and creative urbanism The SO36 case study suggests an alternative research approach that focuses on the observational the experiential and the intuitive as the fundamental basis for knowledge creation An initial assessment of the built environment evolved to reveal abstract and subjective but nevertheless complimentary dimensions of space Alternative techniques of urban exploration and mapping were deployed using otherness as a guiding principle to comparatively dissect urban morphologies and architectural typologies Bridging the gap between professionals and citizens this approach selectively explores urban themes and associations that reflect physical and symbolic otherness The outcomes indicate a relationship between form and meaning which is based and strongly supported by the community's distinctive personal and collective spatial imagination Ultimately what is revealed are conflicting social realities that exist simultaneously in symbiosis and define the neighborhood as a kaleidoscope of place

Das gesteigerte Umweltbewusstsein unseres zeitgenössischen urbanen Zeitalters ist für Stadtplaner und Designer sowohl eine Herausforderung als auch eine Chance Um bessere Sichtweisen Zusammenhänge und Einfluss zu erlangen müssen städtische Entscheidungsstrategien auf den vagen Bereich der Bedeutung zurückgreifen um das Wesen von Sozialleben und dessen Verhältnis zu Raum zu untersuchen Als Antwort auf den provokativen Raumdiskurs von Lefebvre Foucault und der Situationistischen Internationalen untersucht Other Spaces plural narratives of place in Berlin's SO36 die Anwendung von Theorie in der weit und zunehmend interdisziplinären Planungs und Designpraxis der Gegenwart Das Konzept der Andersheit ist tief verwurzelt in der Philosophie des Raumes Es stellt sowohl einen charakteristischen kritischen

Faktor sowie ein vielversprechendes Mittel einer Analyse der zeitgenössischen Urbanität dar. Andersheit als eine Quelle des räumlichen Wissens wirft Themen der Relativität auf, gleichzeitig offenbart es die vielschichtige multidimensionale Gegebenheit der städtischen Umwelt. Konventionelle Forschungsmethoden werden sowohl materiell als auch symbolisch mit einem qualitativen, kreativen und initiativen Faktor ergänzt. Das Freilegen einer ortsbezogenen Idee kann ein hilfreiches Mittel für mehr Verantwortung und kreativere Stadtplanung sein. Die Fallstudie SO36 zeigt einen alternativen Forschungsansatz auf, der sich auf die Beobachtung, die Empirie und die Intuition als die wesentlichen Bestandteile für die Generierung von Wissen konzentriert. Eine anfängliche Einschätzung der bebauten Umwelt weicht der Freilegung abstrakterer und subjektiverer, aber nichtsdestotrotz ergänzender Raumdimensionen. Alternative Techniken der Stadtforschung und Kartographie wurden eingesetzt, die Andersheit als ein Leitprinzip anwenden, um urbane Strukturen und architektonische Typologien aufzugliedern. Dieser Ansatz erforscht gezielt urbane Bezugspunkte und Gemeinschaften, die eine materielle und symbolische Andersheit widerspiegeln und berbrückt so die Kluft zwischen Experten und Einwohnern. Die Resultate deuten eine Verbindung zwischen Gestalt und Bedeutung an, die auf der unverkennbaren persönlichen wie kollektiven räumlichen Vorstellungskraft der Gemeinschaft beruht und von dieser auch unterstützt wird. Letztlich werden widersprüchliche soziale Realitäten freigelegt, die in einer gleichzeitigen Symbiose existieren und Nachbarschaft als ein Kaleidoskop von Orten definieren.

Fascism, the War, and Structures of Feeling in Italy, 1943-1945 Simonetta Falasca-Zamponi, 2023. By bringing to life the cultural imaginaries and practices of the past, Fascism, the War, and Structures of Feeling in Italy, 1943-1945 raises ostensibly intractable questions on the epochal impact of what often appears as inconsequential, the typically unseen and seemingly banal power of everyday experiences.

International Political Economy and Poststructural Politics Marieke De Goede, 2006-03-14. This edited volume brings together leading scholars to debate the promises of poststructural politics within the study of the International Political Economy (IPE). The volume offers a sustained theoretical dialogue on the meaning of discourse, identity and representation for practices of political economy.
