Corporate Strategy Esteem International

Colin Barrow

Corporate Strategy Esteem International:

Strategic HR Peter Reilly, Tony Williams, 2016-04-01 HR has sought to reposition itself as a strategic contributor to organizations. To facilitate this it has restructured bringing in shared services business partners and centres of expertise simplifying automating and rationalising processes and devolving some activities to managers whilst outsourcing others. HR has yet to give sufficient attention to the capability of the function to deliver against the added value promise. This book looks at the developments that have brought HR to its present position. It sets out a vision of where HR might be headed including a definition of its role and activities. It identifies a number of challenges that HR will have to face if it is to be effective. These include not just skills but problems with structures and relationships with stakeholders be they line managers or employees. The authors also highlight ways of monitoring HR performance and of demonstrating its value. It all adds up to an authoritative reference guide for all HR directors seeking to define their role and future aims for those new to the function on the challenges they will face and for senior executives on what they should expect the added value to be from their HR function.
