Economics for Policy Makers Gustavo Rinaldi, 2019-04-16 Certain key economic decisions taken by organizations and indeed countries are often not made by economists but by businessmen trade unionists politicians and policy makers Those who employ people those who represent workers those who make laws and those who elect them need economics but may have little time or desire to study it This book makes economics easily available to everyone The author's use of simple language and avoidance of technical jargon provides non economists with a better understanding of economic reasoning and the tools to know and to decide The author achieves this through introducing key concepts in short presentations and arming the reader with selected press articles and recent research using these concepts An analysis of these demonstrates how a general concept can be derived from a specific context and highlighted questions provide the basis for further debate The reader can then focus on the parts most relevant to their own needs This book will have great appeal to employers trade unionists and public officials attending courses organized by international institutions professional training providers as well as graduate students of courses where economics is an important element especially in relation to its policy implications Finally it is invaluable for anybody who has wanted to learn the basics of practical economics but has been deterred by its technicalities

Behavioural Economics and Finance Michelle Baddeley, 2018-10-17 Behavioural economics and behavioural finance are rapidly expanding fields that are continually growing in prominence While orthodox economic models are built upon restrictive and simplifying assumptions about rational choice and efficient markets behavioural economics offers a robust alternative using insights and evidence that rest more easily with our understanding of how real people think choose and decide This insightful textbook introduces the key concepts from this rich interdisciplinary approach to real world decision making This new edition of Behavioural Economics and Finance is a thorough extension of the first edition including updates to the key chapters on prospect theory heuristics and bias time and planning sociality and identity bad habits personality moods and emotions behavioural macroeconomics and well being and happiness It also includes a number of new chapters dedicated to the themes of incentives and motivations behavioural public policy and emotional trading Using pedagogical features such as chapter summaries and revision questions to enhance reader engagement this text successfully blends economic theories with cutting edge multidisciplinary insights This second edition will be indispensable to anyone interested in how behavioural economics and finance can inform our understanding of consumers and businesses decisions and choices It will appeal especially to undergraduate and graduate students but also to academic researchers public policy makers and anyone interested in deepening their understanding of how economics psychology and sociology interact in driving our everyday decision making
