

A QUICK GUIDE TO

CITING USING THE ACS STYLE GUIDE, 3RD ED.

Listing information sources at the end of a paper is an important part of professional scholarship and writing. Many disciplines have specific requirements for the layout of these references; in chemistry the standard is the ACS Style Guide, 3rd ed., Chapter 1-4.

This quick guide is not a substitute for the ACS Style Guide, but it does include some commonly used formats with the relevant page numbers from the ACS Style Guide. If the ACS Style Guide didn't have an exact example, one was created based on the most relevant examples available. Consult the ACS Style Guide for further examples and clarification of citing rules. If writing for publication, also check the "guides for authors" for the journal in which you want to publish.
