Postmodernist Fiction Brian McHale, 1987 Postmodernism is not a found object but a manufactured artifact Beginning from this constructivist premise Brian McHale develops a series of readings of problematically postmodernist novels Joyce's Ulysses Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow and Vineland Eco's The Name of the Rose and Foucault's Pendulum the novels of Joseph McElroy and Christine Brooke Rose avant garde works such as Kathy Acker's Empire of the Senseless and the works of cyberpunk science fiction by William Gibson Bruce Sterling Lewis Shiner Rudy Rucker and others Although mainly focused on high or elite cultural products art novels Constructing Postmodernism relates these products to such phenomena of postmodern popular culture as television and the cinema paranoia and nuclear apocalypse angelology and the cybernetic interface and death now as always in spite of what Captain Kirk says the true Final Frontier McHale's previous book Postmodernist Fiction had seemed to propose a single all inclusive inventory of postmodernist poetics This book by contrast proposes multiple overlapping and interesting inventories not a construction of postmodernism but a plurality of constructions Publisher

Towards a Poetics of Postmodern Drama Mufti Mudasir,2014-06-26 The book is a study of Harold Pinter and Tom Stoppard arguably the two most eminent British playwrights of the past sixty years or so from a perspective of what it describes as a poetics of postmodern drama Arguing for the application of Linda Hutcheon s model of postmodernism to the study of drama Towards a Poetics of Postmodern Drama shows that postmodern drama should be seen as a self consciously contradictory and double coded phenomenon one which simultaneously inscribes and subverts the conventional categories of dramatic representation In spite of its indebtedness to Beckett s Absurdist and Brecht s Epic theaters postmodern drama should not be conflated with either This is primarily because postmodern drama retains a critical edge towards contemporary reality in a manner which Hutcheon very aptly terms as a complicitous critique The book demonstrates that both Pinter and Stoppard are pre eminently postmodern in their treatment of issues such as the human subject the notion of truth historical verifiability and linguistic reference Pinter s preoccupation with non referential modes of language use the role of power in the construction of the subject and unreliable memories is as potent a way of disrupting the representational status of drama as Stoppard s repeated recourse to devices such as parody theater within theater and the fictional treatment of history

“Abandon All Hope” - consumerism and loss of identity in Bret Easton Ellis’s "American Psycho" as an example of blank fiction Anja Schiel,2008-04-23 Thesis M A from the year 2005 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1 5 University of Hamburg Sprach Literatur und Medienwissenschaft language English abstract Bret Easton Ellis s American Psycho has been labeled many things from Brat Pack Fiction to Generation X to Minimal Realism While the classification of the novel might be difficult and it has often been misunderstood for its extremely violent scenes what is clear to the attentive reader is its critique of consumer culture Critics have acknowledged an emergence of a large number of writings dealing with this topic in contemporary American literature in the recent past These novels focus on the relationship of American youth with consumer culture with a seemingly non elaborate content and style Attempts of explaining this kind of writing which has also been called fiction of insurgency new narrative downtown writing and punk fiction range from millennial angst to the classification of this literary movement as part of the postmodern culture What seems clear is that these narrations are closely related to the society they have been created in The way these texts incorporate products of their time as a constant accompanying element places them very clearly in a specific time period The apparent non existence of complexity concerning the style which at times reminds the reader of a movie script or a sequence of an MTV video has in the case of American Psycho caused many critics to classify the novel as boring and deny the author the status of an artist Exactly this seeming meaninglessness of these novels argues in favor of a term introduced by critics James Annesley and Elizabeth Young Blank fiction or Blank Generation Fiction The term Blank fiction seems to capture perfectly the emptiness created by consumer culture that has found its way into these narratives not simply in its context but also by means of its language incorporating consumer goods into the narrative as secondary characters in the case of American Psycho ascribing more character to these objects than to the protagonists

Postmodern Studies ,2006 The Postmodern Fantastic in Contemporary British Fiction Martin Horstkotte,2004 This study looks at the complex relationship between postmodernism and the fantastic in contemporary British fiction and shows that a new type of the fantastic arises in postmodernism Arguing against interpretations that view postmodernism as inherently fantastic it seeks to define the postmodern fantastic as a narrative mode that is influenced by certain traits both of the traditional fantastic and of literary postmodernism but does not simply conflate both In the first theoretical part a number of theories of the fantastic and of postmodernism are used to set the fantastic apart from other non mimetic forms of literature and to create a model of the postmodern fantastic that postulates the totalisation of the fantastic in postmodernism In the second part of this study this model is applied to a number of contemporary British texts which are particularly susceptible to this form of the fantastic due to several characteristics such as their muted kind of postmodernism and their frequent construction of parallel worlds The analysis of these texts focuses on four thematic fields of the postmodern fantastic the figure of the other as defined by Bernhard Waldenfels time and history text and textuality and the development of the Todorovian pure fantastic Finally the question of the death of the fantastic in postmodernism is examined
