Mao Michael Lynch, 2004-06-02 Michael Lynch presents an engaging and thorough account of Mao's life and politics making use of a wealth of primary and secondary sources He locates Maoism in the broader context of twentieth century Chinese history discussing the development of the Chinese Communist Party the creation of the People's Republic of China and the Cultural Revolution and the part played by Mao in the Cold War Details of Mao's controversial private life as well as his political and philosophical thought add to this diverse picture of the influential leader This well written biography will be essential reading to anyone interested in twentieth century China and its most memorable figure Brothers at War

Sheila Miyoshi Jager, 2013-06-24 The most balanced and comprehensive account of the Korean War The Economist Sixty years after North Korean troops crossed the 38th parallel into South Korea the Korean War has not yet ended Sheila Miyoshi Jager presents the first comprehensive history of this misunderstood war one that risks involving the world's superpowers again Her sweeping narrative ranges from the middle of the Second World War when Korean independence was fiercely debated between Roosevelt Stalin and Churchill to the present day as North Korea with China's aid stockpiles nuclear weapons while starving its people At the center of this conflict is an ongoing struggle between North and South Korea for the mantle of Korean legitimacy a brother's war which continues to fuel tensions on the Korean peninsula and the region Drawing from newly available diplomatic archives in China South Korea and the former Soviet Union Jager analyzes top level military strategy She brings to life the bitter struggles of the postwar period and shows how the conflict between the two Koreas has continued to evolve to the present with important and tragic consequences for the region and the world Her portraits of the many fascinating characters that populate this history Truman MacArthur Kim Il Sung Mao Stalin and Park Chung Hee reveal the complexities of the Korean War and the repercussions this conflict has had on lives of many individuals statesmen soldiers and ordinary people including the millions of hungry North Koreans for whom daily existence continues to be a nightmarish struggle The most accessible up to date and balanced account yet written illustrated with dozens of astonishing photographs and maps Brothers at War will become the definitive chronicle of the struggle's origins and aftermath and its global impact for years to come

The Cultural Revolution Frank Dikötter, 2016-05-03 The concluding volume following Mao's Great Famine and The Tragedy of Liberation in Frank Dikötter's award winning trilogy chronicling the Communist revolution in China After the economic disaster of the Great Leap Forward that claimed tens of millions of lives from 1958-1962 an aging Mao Zedong launched an ambitious scheme to shore up his reputation and eliminate those he viewed as a threat to his legacy The stated goal of the Cultural Revolution was to purge the country of bourgeois capitalistic elements he claimed were threatening genuine communist ideology Young students formed the Red Guards vowing to defend the Chairman to the death but soon rival factions started fighting each other in the streets with semiautomatic weapons in the name of revolutionary purity As the country descended into chaos the military intervened turning China into a garrison state marked by bloody purges that crushed as many as one in fifty people The Cultural Revolution A People's History 1962-1976 draws for the first time on hundreds of previously classified party documents from secret police reports to unexpurgated versions of leadership speeches Frank Dikötter uses this wealth of material to undermine the picture of complete conformity that is often supposed to have characterized the last years of the Mao era After the army itself fell victim to the Cultural Revolution ordinary people used the political chaos to resurrect the market and hollow out the party's ideology In short they buried Maoism By showing how economic reform from below was an unintended consequence of a decade of violent purges and entrenched fear The Cultural Revolution casts China's most tumultuous era in a wholly new light Embracing the Lie Charles J. Alber, 2004 This volume is the first serious attempt to reconstruct Ding Ling's biography during the last few decades of her life Most Westerners know her as a progressive woman writer who became famous during the May 4 Movement championed its values in Yan'an and was criticized in the rectification campaigns that followed Few know about her life afterward and the arduous process of rehabilitation Here for the first time readers will learn about her life in the Great Northern Wasteland solitary confinement in Qincheng prison her visit to the United States participation in the spiritual pollution campaign and finally the attempt to launch the journal China All of this puts a new perspective on the life of one of China's most preeminent woman writers Alber includes considerable new information about the rectification campaigns of the late fifties supplemented by a series of interviews with the author and her contemporaries in the years 1980 and 1981 the very point when she began to turn left and to compromise her progressive beliefs Ding Ling is generally acknowledged as a major figure of the May 4 Movement and an ardent admirer of Lu Xun As such the study sheds light on the legacy of China's greatest writer and the influence of Western ideals on contemporary Chinese literature The primary audience is the educated reader who has an interest in contemporary Chinese literature and politics It should be especially interesting to women but the coverage is broad enough to include anyone interested in the intellectual history of China

Far Eastern Affairs, 2006 Foreign Fanaticism and American Constitutional Values Rodney Jay Blackman, 2010 This book both explores why America has largely escaped the foreign political and religious fanaticism that was expressed in the September 11th 2001 attack and presents a brief history of some of the most destructive examples of similar fanaticism Blackman discusses why the constitutional structure of dispersed power that the American Framers created has been so successful He then contrasts this success with the disastrous results produced by various political revolutionaries who believed either in nationalistic superiority Hitler or egalitarianism Robespierre Lenin Stalin and Mao The book also serves as a cautionary tale by providing examples of fanatical utopian experiments that rational Americans would not want replicated here The Bulletin, 1889 Time Briton Hadden, Henry R. Luce, 1955 The Spectator, 1911

We Now Know John Lewis Gaddis, 1997 A masterly review of the early phases of the conflict between the United States Russia China and their respective allies from 1946 to the Cuban missile crisis in the autumn of 1962 It is clear thorough and judicious in short magnificent The Economist Gaddis has done a thorough job of collating material from these diverse sources and constructing a trenchant analysis that puts these fascinating tidbits into context San Francisco Chronicle Examiner Based on the latest findings of Cold War historians and extensive research in American archives as well as the recently opened archives in Eastern Europe the former Soviet Union and China We Now Know provides a vividly written eye opening account of the Cold War during the years from the end of World War II to the Cuban missile crisis The book brims with new information drawn from previously unavailable sources with fresh insight into the impact of ideology economics and nuclear weapons and with striking reinterpretations of the roles of Truman Eisenhower Kennedy Khrushchev Mao and Stalin Indeed

Gaddis concludes that if there was one factor that made the Cold War unavoidable it was Stalin The Reader's Digest
DeWitt Wallace, Lila Acheson Wallace, 1995 Asiaweek, 1994-11 Explaining Chinese Democratization Shaohua Hu, 2000-01-30 Hu seeks to explain China's failure to establish a democratic system. He demonstrates both continuity and change in China's democratization process. Modern China regards power and wealth as primary goals and treats a strong state as a major means to these ends. Such a preference puts democracy on a back burner. Employing a theoretical framework which consists of five factors: historical legacies, local forces, the world system, socialist values, and economic development, Hu shows that while all of these factors were at work in all eras, each assumes a special significance in a particular period.
Traditional China before the 1911 Revolution attempted to adjust itself to a new Western-dominated world. In the Republican era, the control of local forces topped the political agenda. Nationalist China sought to survive and develop in the world system while Maoist China set for itself the task of building a socialist state. And of course, economic development has been the priority of the Deng era. As Hu shows, these five factors have had determining impacts on the long struggle for democracy in China. Decision-making in Deng's China Carol Lee Hamrin, Suisheng Zhao, 1995. Considers the politics of central decision making by focusing on senior policy makers and implementing bureaucracies on the one hand and actors in economic and non-economic arenas on the other. The contributors held significant party and government positions in China up to 1989.
