Thinking Like A Mountain Towards A Council Of All Beings:

Thinking Like a Mountain John Seed, 1988 This book of readings meditations rituals and workshop notes prepared on three continents provides a context for ritual identification with the natural environment As relevant today as when it was originally published in 1988 this classic of the sustainability movement helps us experience our place in the web of life rather than at the apex of some human centered pyramid An important deep ecology educational tool for activist school and religious groups it can also be used for personal reflection

Toward a Transpersonal Ecology Warwick Fox, 1995-01-01 In this book I advance an argument concerning the nature of the deep ecology approach to ecophilosophy In order to advance this argument in as thorough a manner as possible I present it within the context of a comprehensive overview of the writings on deep ecology

Thinking Like a Mountain John Seed, Joanna Macy, Pat Fleming, Arne Naess, 1988 The Challenge of Evil William Greenway, 2016-12-02 Belief in God in the face of suffering is one of the most intractable problems of Christian theology Many respond to the spiritual challenge of evil by ignoring it blaming God or insisting on the inherent meaninglessness of life In this book William Greenway contends that we don't have to deny our moral selves by either ignoring evil or abandoning our moral sensibilities toward it We can open our eyes fully to suffering and evil and our own complicity in them We can do so because it is only in this full acceptance of the world's guilt and our own that we make ourselves fully open to agape to being seized by love of others and God Inspired by the Jewish philosopher Emmanuel Levinas and the Christian novelist Fyodor Dostoyevsky The Challenge of Evil lovingly explains how we can look squarely at the overwhelming suffering in the world and still by grace have faith in a good and loving God

Rights of Nature in Europe Jenny García Ruales, Katarina Hovden, Helen Kopnina, Colin D. Robertson, Hendrik Schoukens, 2024-04-09 This book addresses the recognition of the Rights of Nature RoN in Europe examining their conceptualisation and implementation RoN refers to a diverse set of legal developments that seek to redefine Nature's status within the law gradually emerging as a novel template for environmental protection Countries like Ecuador and New Zealand each with distinct histories and ways of dwelling in the world have pioneered a new era in environmental governance by legally acknowledging rights or personhood for nature ecosystems and more than human populations In recent years Europe has witnessed growing interest in RoN with academic legislative and political initiatives gaining momentum A significant development is the September 2022 passage of a law in the Spanish Parliament granting legal personhood and rights to the Mar Menor a saltwater lagoon severely affected by environmental degradation Given the diversity in interpretations and articulations of Rights of Nature this edited volume argues that their arrival in Europe fosters different kinds of interactions across distinct areas of law knowledge practices and societal domains The book employs a multidisciplinary approach exploring these interactions in law and policy anthropology Indigenous worldviews and jurisprudence philosophy spiritual traditions critical theory animal communication psychology and social work This book is tailored for scholars in law political science environmental studies anthropology and cultural studies as well as legal practitioners NGOs activists and policy makers interested in ecology and environmental protection

Animals and Religion Dave Aftandilian, Barbara R. Ambros, Aaron S. Gross, 2024-02-06 What do animals other than human animals have to do with religion How do our religious ideas about animals affect the lives of real animals in the world How can we deepen our understanding of both animals and religion by considering them together Animals and Religion explores how animals have crucially shaped how we understand ourselves the other living beings around us and our relationships with them Through incisive analyses of religious examples from around the world the original contributions to this volume demonstrate how animals have played key roles in every known religious tradition whether as sacred beings symbols objects of concern fellow creatures or religious teachers And through our religious imagination ethics and practices we have deeply impacted animal lives whether by domesticating sacrificing dominating eating refraining from eating blessing rescuing releasing commemorating or contemplating them Drawing primarily on perspectives from religious studies and Christian theology augmented by cutting edge work in anthropology biology philosophy and psychology Animals and Religion offers the reader a richer understanding of who animals are and who we humans are Do animals have emotions Do they think or use language Are they persons How we answer questions like these affects diverse aspects of religion that shape not only how we relate to other animals but also how we perceive and misperceive each other along axes of gender race and disability Accessibly written and thoughtfully argued Animals and Religion will interest anyone who wants to learn more about animals religion and what it means to be a human animal

Wild Abandon Alexander Menrisky, 2020-12-17 Examines how interactions between ecology and psychoanalysis shifted the focus of the American wilderness narrative from environment to identity
