Company Description:

{Insert 1-2 paragraph summary description of company and its market here}

Due Diligence Assessment:

{This section is the heart of the due diligence report. For each topic, we provide you with example questions that make for appropriate areas to discuss in the remarks column. This report template is deliberately designed as a table to force the authors to be concise. It's important to be succinct in your diligence findings summary. Otherwise, you will end up with a long report that investors won't read through, thus defeating the purpose of the report. If you have important detail or documents that you feel must be included in your findings, you can make them into appendices and refer to them in the report, but can be a slippery slope toward an excessively long package. A better approach is to keep primary research materials and memos in a cloud folder you can make available to the minority of investors who want more detail.}

Topic	Rating	Remarks
Investment Thesis	{see below}	This section is where you explain the overall logic of the investment and characterize how it is that investors will make money. Questions you may want to cover here include: is this a billion dollar IPO opportunity or is it more likely to be acquired for under $50M? Or something in between? Are there limited number of risks that can be mitigated or is this a moonshot deal with big risk and
