Study the diagrams of the rectangles suggested below and note that it contains several other quadrilaterals and triangles. Record the given information on the diagrams. Then use the student activities and your understanding of quadrilaterals and triangles to find the measures of the missing angles. Write the measures in their proper place on the diagrams. Doing more than one exercise will result in the diagrams you created. However, measures may be found in other ways and answers. You may not use values of quadrilaterals, unless you are given enough information to do so. It is not a rectangle unless you are told so. Do not help you to find missing measures.
