second part of the novel and which the paper will address by means of the text's language and content obviously is not separate from the external journey since the story is about the development of one and the same person. The second journey that describes his existence as a teenager replaces the first physical one lived as a child. However, this paper will divide the two rihlas in order to carve out its differences and to show Mohamed's development which eventually leads to his emancipation through literacy. Finally, the paper will address some personal impressions and remarks on the novel.

Reading Mohamed Choukri's Narratives Jonas Elbousty, Roger Allen, 2024-07-15. Reading Mohamed Choukri's Narratives presents an intricate exploration into the life and literary universe of Mohamed Choukri, a towering figure in 20th-century Moroccan literature. Known primarily for his groundbreaking autobiographical work al Khubz al f (For Bread Alone), Choukri's literary influence extends well beyond this single work. This book seeks to cast a light on his broader body of work, examining the cultural, societal, and personal influences that shaped his unique storytelling style. Through a deep analysis of his narratives, this text aims to unfold how Choukri portrayed the harsh realities he and others encountered, giving voice to the marginalized individuals and communities in Morocco.

Samia Mehrez, 2010-01-01. A look at some of the raging debates in the arts in Egypt. For Bread Alone Muhammad Shukri, 1987. Choukri's classic and moving work, which has already been translated into more than ten languages, speaks for an entire generation of North Africans. Born in the Rif, Choukri moved with his family to Tangier at a time of great famine. His childhood was spent in abject poverty; eight of his brothers and sisters died of malnutrition or neglect. During his adolescence, described here with its attendant erotic escapades, Choukri worked for a time as a servant to a French family. He then returned to Tangier, where he experienced the violence of the 1952 independence riots. At the age of 20 and still illiterate, he took the decision to learn to read and write classical Arabic, a decision which transformed his life. After mastering the language, he became a teacher and writer, finally being awarded the chair of Arabic Literature at Ibn Batuta College in Tangier.

Thesis M.A. from the year 2009 in the subject Orientalism Sinology Arabistic grade 90 Ben Gurion University. course Arabic Literature language English abstract. In 1973, the English translation For Bread Alone of Mohamed Choukri's Al Khubz Al Hafi was published. This first part of Choukri's extraordinary autobiography is written in a very simplistic style, which Paul Bowles, the translator of For Bread Alone, also described as a technique. Choukri's narration is the work of an illiterate who has not yet learned to classify what goes into his memory. The novel illustrates the protagonist's struggle to survive under exceptionally difficult circumstances, namely extreme poverty and violence. Indeed, Mohamed Choukri states that all his life has been a response to one challenge after the other. The novel is constructed as a rihla journey, both an earlier external one of physical movement and a later one which this paper will describe as internal. First, this paper will explore the external journey which leads the protagonist Mohamed to different cities and places, and it will analyze the language structure and content which express this travel. This first journey is dominated by his family whose relationship with Mohamed is also central to this study Furthermore it will examine the transition from this journey to the internal one by means of the content and the structure of the text The internal rihla which prevails in the second part of the novel and which the paper will address by means of the text s language and content obviously is not separate from the external journey since the story is about the development of one and the same person The second journey that describes his existence as a teenager replaces the first physical one lived as a child However this paper will divide the two rihlas in order to carve out its differences and to show Mohamed s development which eventually leads to his emancipation through lit
