

Engineering Design

Engineering design is the process of creating a solution to a problem. It involves identifying a need, defining the requirements, and developing a plan to meet those requirements. The design process is iterative, meaning that it often involves multiple cycles of testing, evaluation, and refinement.

Engineering design is a multidisciplinary field that draws on knowledge from various areas, including mathematics, science, and technology. It is a creative process that requires problem-solving skills and the ability to think outside the box.
