

DESIGNING DESIGN

KENYA HARA

LIEDERKOOT

Practice and experience, he discovers design like a philosopher of life, who continuously studying his surroundings of the process, always with a view to progress, research, challenging and changing his own mindsets. He is both the deeply reflective, keen of communication and the innocent of experimentation, struggling and working with increasing knowledge and deferring system to itself. Architecture... Although he believes that functioning of the human world is not predetermined, it is partly constructed, he has, every word, a personal value for it. He focuses on words, where he speaks of and life in the 21st century and the work he has before us is just and all encompassing, ever from the construction.

John MAEDA

Kenya Hara is a complex man. He sees the world through his many faces of seeing, feeling, smiling, crying, imagining, and all forms of communication and communication as Japan's progression are diverse in the beginning of the 21st century. His presence is everywhere, not of them to see themselves that he has not yet finished, it is the experimental, appeal for his work... "With this new world, the world can stand to be better than decades of Hara's research over the centuries, traditions of long Japanese design, ever from the construction."

Jasper MORRISON

Kenya's communication and communication, the spirit of HARA has created a unique advertising campaign and the perfect complement to the company's philosophy. Since formulating the advertising campaign he has completed a detailed system of building, partially based on the previous MORRISON. The MORRISON is a great graphic work, but the great skill of Kenya Hara is not limited to the uniform visual style of graphic design communication. He has been successful in his own visual level where he doesn't need to ask ourselves the meaning of his graphic message, we just realize that, ever from the construction.

Nateo FUKASAWA

When Kenya Hara begins to be seen more establishing a method representing every act of movement. The world he under stands his graphic work. His new system is to visualize the feeling, existence for all human beings, i.e. those at work in the infrastructure. He needs to establish an unending, endless possibility beyond the practice of creative design all about us. He is constantly skilled in editing and organizing numerous elements... each of which gives individuals... even a single glowing beam of light, ever from the construction.

The latest publication by designer Kenya Hara following his acclaimed Designing Design White is not a book about color It is rather the author's attempt to explore the essence of white which he sees as being closely related to the origin of Japanese aesthetics symbolizing simplicity and subtlety The central concepts discussed are emptiness and the absolute void Kenya Hara also sees his work as a designer as a pure form of communication Good communication has the distinction of being able to listen to each other rather than to press one's opinion onto the opponent Kenya Hara compares this form of communication with an empty container In visual communication there are equally signals whose signification is limited as well as signals or symbols such as the cross or the red circle on the Japanese flag which like an empty container permit every signification and do not limit imagination It is not only the fact that the Japanese character for white forms a radical of the character for emptiness that has prompted him to closely associate the color white with the state of emptiness This book offers a personal insight into the philosophy of the successful designer and author of Designing Design Design by Nature Maggie Macnab,2011-09-22 In Design by Nature Using Universal Forms and Principles in Design author Maggie Macnab takes you on an intimate and eclectic journey examining the unending versatility of nature showing how to uncover nature's ingenuity and use it to create beautiful and compelling designed communications Written for designers and creative thinkers of all types this book will guide you through a series of unexpected a ha moments that describe relationships among nature art science technology and design Through explanation and example you will learn about natural processes consisting of everyday patterns and shapes that are often taken for granted but that can be used effectively in visual messaging Explore the principles all human beings intuitively use to understand the world and learn to incorporate nature's patterns and shapes into your work for more meaningful design By recognizing and appreciating a broad range of relationships you can create more aesthetic and effective design building communications that encompass the universal experience of being part of nature and that are relevant to a worldwide audience Teaches how to understand and integrate the essential processes of nature's patterns and shapes in design Includes key concepts learning objectives definitions and exercises to help you put what you learn into practice Features a foreword by Debbie Millman and reviews and discussions of practice and process by some of the world's leading designers including Milton Glaser Stefan Sagmeister and Ellen Lupton Includes profiles of street artist Banksy creative director and author Kenya Hara and typographical designer Erik Spiekermann Graphic Design Theory Helen Armstrong,2012-08-10 Graphic Design Theory is organized in three sections Creating the Field traces the evolution of graphic design over the course of the early 1900s including influential avant garde ideas of futurism constructivism and the Bauhaus Building on Success covers the mid to late twentieth century and considers the International Style modernism and postmodernism and Mapping the Future opens at the end of the last century and includes current discussions on legibility social responsibility and new media Striking color images illustrate each of the movements discussed and demonstrate the ongoing relationship between theory and practice A brief commentary prefaces each text providing a cultural and historical framework through which the work can be evaluated Authors include such influential designers as Herbert Bayer L szlo Moholy Nagy Karl Gerstner Katherine McCoy Michael Rock Lev Manovich Ellen Lupton and Lorraine Wild Additional features include a timeline glossary and bibliography for further reading A must have survey for graduate and undergraduate courses in design history theory and contemporary issues Graphic Design Theory invites designers and interested readers of all levels to plunge into the world of design discourse
