S Pakistan S Foreign Policy Pdf Ruchi2014de:

Explaining Pakistan's Foreign Policy Aparna Pande, 2011-03-16 Pakistan has over the decades become a hotbed for the terrorist ideology often referred to as Jihadism This book investigates the underlying principles of Pakistan's foreign policy from 1947 until the present day and explains the rise of Jihadism as an offshoot of Pakistan's security concerns The book goes on to discuss that from its inception as a separate state Pakistan's foreign policy focused on seeking parity with India and escaping from an Indian South Asian identity The desire to achieve parity with its much larger neighbour led Pakistan to seek the assistance and support of allies The author analyses the relationship Pakistan has with Afghanistan United States China and the Muslim world and looks at how these relationships are based on the desire that military economic and diplomatic aid from these countries would bolster Pakistan's meagre resources in countering Indian economic and military strength The book presents an interesting contribution to South Asian Studies as well as studies on International Relations and Foreign Policy Determinants of Pakistan's Foreign Policy Sukhawant Singh Bindra, 1988 The Foreign Policy of Pakistan Mūsá Khān Jalālzaī, 2000 Strategic Dimensions of Pakistan's Foreign Policy S. Irtiza Husain, 1989 Pakistan and the Geostrategic Environment H. Rizvi, 1993-01-15 A study of Pakistan's foreign policy with an emphasis on geostrategic environment undertakes a critical review of Pakistan's interaction at the bilateral regional and international levels Focusing mainly on the period from 1972 to the present the book examines Pakistan's troubled relations with India interaction with the smaller states of South Asia and the Muslim world Pakistan's relations with the U S the Soviet Union and China including the impact of the nuclear issue and the Afghanistan crisis on the Pakistan U S ties get a detailed treatment

Foreign Policy of Pakistan University of Karachi. Department of International Relations, Latif Ahmed Sherwani, 1964

Readings in Pakistan Foreign Policy, 1971-1978 Mehrunnisa Ali, 2001 This work discusses Pakistan's foreign policy over three decades Pakistan's relations with the major powers with its neighbours and the Muslim world are examined The book deals with important issues of foreign policy such as Kashmir nuclear issues and security imperatives and the post Cold War challenges and the impact of the unipolar world on foreign policy are also discussed Pakistan's Foreign Policy 1947-2019 Abdul Sattar, 2020-07-09 Written with the express purpose of providing a reference book for students of history political science international relations and Pakistan Studies this book offers an objective history of policy stances along with the rationale behind decisions made by Pakistani state leaders It provides an insight into the making implementation and consequences of Pakistan's foreign policy from Partition up to 2019 It will facilitate a deeper understanding of the strategic compulsions that have driven decision making in Pakistan's national security and foreign policy This book incorporates new contours in relations with India the US China and Afghanistan Further updates pertain to developments in such key areas as terrorism Kashmir and the Middle East Pakistan's Foreign Policy, 1947-2012 Abdul Sattar, 2013 This new edition has been updated to provide an insight into the making implementation and consequences of Pakistan's foreign policy from

Partition to post 9 11 years It will facilitate a deeper understanding of the strategic compulsions that have driven decision making in Pakistan s national security and foreign policy This concise history will be of interest to readers seeking to form an objective perspective on Pakistan s foreign policy Pakistan's Foreign Policy Shahid M. Amin,2000 A penetrating analysis of Pakistan s foreign policy this book explores the topic from the time of independence in 1947 to the new millennium It calls for new thinking on various aspects of the policy with particular emphasis on Pakistan India relations Pakistan's Foreign Policy K. Arif,1984 An Analysis of Pakistan's Foreign Policy Towards Peoples Republic of China Syeda Kanwal Hassan,2019 The problem driving this research stems from the lack of a systematic and theoretically informed framework to identify the dynamics of Pakistan is strengthening alignment with China Pakistan developed close defence and strategic ties with China during the Cold War period as both states balanced against a common adversary i e India However Pakistan has attempted to bolster and expand its links with China in the aftermath of U S military presence in Afghanistan due to a host of regional and global developments that widened the cracks and increased the mistrust that has existed between Pakistan and U S This study hypothesises that Pakistan has maintained a policy of alignment with China prior to 2005 however from 2005 onwards Pakistan has attempted to diversify its scope of relations with China as in response to external changes and circumstances in the geopolitical and geo economic sphere Therefore the objective of this research is to analyse why Pakistan has attempted to strengthen its alignment towards China from 2005 onwards The existing literature on the subject is outdated rigorously descriptive and is void of conceptual connections To address these gaps this research adopts a theoretical framework of analysis that is informed by neoclassical realist theory of foreign policy analysis to help analyse Pakistan s China policy This framework offers a two level analysis of Pakistan s behaviour The independent variable is the set of system level drivers such as international power relations external threat perceptions and international economic interdependencies The intervening variable which affects the way Pakistan s decision makers perceive the system level developments is the strategic culture at the unit level This study suggests that the principle driver of Pakistan s accelerated alignment policy towards China during this period is Pakistan s perceptions of international systemic structure drivers which are the external developments that have occurred in its region In addition how Pakistan perceives those external developments is determined by its strategic culture which an intervening role The strategic culture the author argues is dominated by Pakistan s distrust of India and it narrowly confines the idea of Pakistan s national interest to military security whilst neglecting the economic aspect of it The thesis finds that Pakistan has actively tried to cultivate a broader and robust relationship with China to limit its dependency on U S for strategic economic and diplomatic support Pakistan has become increasingly sceptic of the U S for its carrots and stick approach towards Pakistan Whereas China has enabled Pakistan to continue in its revisionist agendas which to some extent are tolerable for China It finds that growth in China s economic and military power has provided Pakistan with an alternate patron from whom it can procure weapons conventional and non conventional and it can seek financial support This study also finds that although there is evidence of a deeper relationship beyond the traditional security centric one however it is developing into more of a client patron relationship given that Pakistan is increasingly becoming a country highly indebted to China Pakistan's Foreign Policy,1947-2009 Abdul Sattar,2010 A distinguished career in Pakistan s Foreign Service provided Abdul Sattar with a unique personal insight into the making implementation and consequences of Pakistan s foreign policy from Partition to post 9 11 years This concise history reflects his knowledge experience and research that will be of interest to students as well as general readers seeking to form an objective perspective on Pakistan s foreign policy
