Enriching Higher Education Students' Learning through Post-work Placement Interventions Stephen Billett, Janice Orrell, Denise Jackson, Faith Valencia-Forrester, 2020-09-07 This edited volume offers a range of insights about practices of and findings associated with enriching higher education students learning by their engagement in educational processes during and after the completion of their work integrated education experiences That is using post practicum intervention to augment and enrich those learning experiences The collected contributions here draw on the processes of trialling and evaluating educational processes that aimed to enrich the work integrated education experiences for purposes of improving students understandings abilities to address workplace and occupational requirements These processes and findings from these processes across a range of disciplinary fields including pharmacy psychology physiotherapy service learning occupational therapy journalism and business students education speak directly to educators in both workplace and educational settings across a range of occupational sectors These messages which arise from educators and practitioners enacting and evaluating these interventions offer practical suggestions as well as conceptual advances The reach of the accounts of processes

findings and evaluations is not restricted to the occupational fields in which the interventions occurred. The lessons provided through this edited volume are intended to inform how post practicum interventions might be enacted across a range of occupational studies.

Developing Practice Capability Narelle Patton, Joy Higgs, Megan Smith, 2018-04-16 This book focuses on professional practice capability development in workplace contexts. It is built around the idea of workplace learning spaces being like crucibles in which many human material and ephemeral factors are brought together through interactive exchanges of purpose and energy. A Crucible Model for Professional Development is presented and explored as a means for better understanding workplace learning as a place and vehicle for learning for professional practice. The power and potential for such learning spaces resembles the power of the apparently simple bowl of a crucible. However when combined with the fire of enthusiasm for learning and teaching and the rich learning resources and opportunities these settings can provide the resultant catalytic reactions of professional growth and development can be both rewarding and outstanding. This book challenges contemporary models of workplace learning and their ability to develop a broad range of professional practice capabilities. The authors examine the nature and context of workplace learning in relation to capability development, explore the potential of the Crucible Model to enhance workplace learning and provide narratives of professional practice capability development in action. The discussions generate a range of implications and recommendations for workplace learning and capability development relevant to workplace learning educators and supervisors, academic educators, practitioners, students, and those with the power to shape the future direction of workplace learning for professional practice. We invite you as readers of this book to consider the themes we have presented to reflect on your own experiences, whether as a student, workplace learning educator, supervisor, academic educator, or a practitioner seeking to enhance your own capability development to re-imagine workplace learning pedagogy and in so doing harness the potency of workplace learning experiences to develop professional practitioners capable of flourishing in and constructively contributing to 21st Century professional practice contexts.

Occupational Therapy for People Experiencing Illness, Injury or Impairment E-Book (previously entitled Occupational Therapy and Physical Dysfunction) Michael Curtin, Mary Egan, Jo Adams, 2016-12-16 The sixth edition of this classic book remains a key text for occupational therapists supporting their practice in working with people with physical impairments, stimulating reflection on the knowledge, skills, and attitudes which inform practice, and encouraging the development of occupation-focused practice. Within this book, the editors have addressed the call by leaders within the profession to ensure that an occupational perspective shapes the skills and strategies used within occupational therapy practice. Rather than focusing on discrete diagnostic categories, the book presents a range of strategies that, with the use of professional reasoning, can be transferred across practice settings. The new editors have radically updated the book in response to the numerous internal and external influences on the profession, illustrating how an occupational perspective underpins occupational therapy practice. A global outlook is intrinsic to this edition of the book, as demonstrated by the large number of contributors recruited from across the world Covers everything the student needs within the physical disorders part of their course Links theory of principles to practice and management Written and edited by a team of internationally experienced OT teachers clinicians and managers Gives key references and further reading lists for more detailed study Written within a framework of lifespan development in line with current teaching and practice Includes practice scenarios and case studies Focuses on strategies New title echoes the contemporary strength based and occupation focused nature of occupational therapy practice which involves working with people and not medical conditions and diagnoses Content and structure reviewed and shaped by an international panel of students new graduates 22 additional chapters 100 expert international contributors Evolve Resources evolve elsevier com Curtin OT contains 3 bonus interactive practice stories with reflective videos 360 MCQs 200 reflective questions 250 downloadable images Critical discussion of the ICF in the context of promoting occupation and participation Pedagogical features summaries key points and multiple choice and short answer reflective questions
