

Classroom Interaction Affected by Power Distance

Michiko Kasuya

1. Introduction

1.1 Oral Communication course in Japan's high school

A Japanese teacher complains after Oral Communication class, "Students don't speak! They won't positively participate in activities!" Japan started to teach Oral Communication in high school English education several years ago. However, it cannot be said that this subject and other communicative activities have been learned by the students very well.

Why have communicative activities not worked sufficiently in Japanese high school? Perhaps the officially admitted textbooks are not satisfactory. Also, the untrained Japanese teachers of English who are reluctant to teach the subject may be another opposing factor. However, are these the only reasons? When people look at Japanese classrooms, especially in junior high schools and high schools, they notice that not only in English classrooms but also in the classrooms of other subjects students are passive and hesitate to speak in front of other students. There is very little free interaction between teachers and students or students and students during class. It can be assumed that there are some cultural elements which lie in the way of their voluntary interaction.

1.2 Japanese classroom interaction influenced by cultural factors

Hofstede (1986) proposes a cultural analysis in terms of the four dimensions of Individualism/Collectivism, Uncertainty Avoidance, Power Distance, and Masculinity/Femininity and relates the factors to classroom interaction. One of them, Power Distance, is considered to greatly influence Japanese classroom interaction, especially communicative activities. At school Japanese teachers are likely to control students and students are expected to obey teachers, and this is assumed to have prevented free interaction in class. These facts are reported in several articles by Japanese teachers and educational researchers, who present critical views on Japanese teaching (Sato, 1993; Ishii, 1993; Watanabe and Wada, 1991).

It is too simple-minded to say that the Japanese way of teaching is wrong and the Western way is good. There may be some advantages as well as disadvantages in the traditional Japanese method. Also, it is not easy to change the system because Japanese culture and society are in the background. Still, we may do far better in teaching if we learn from other countries' ways of teaching. Especially, in teaching English, Japanese teachers need to be conscious of the effects of the cultural differences between Japan and the countries where the target language is spoken, but such a consciousness regrettably seems not to be sufficient in Japan.

Classroom Interaction Affected By Power Distance:

Classroom Talk Debbie G. E. Ho, 2007 The author attempts to answer the question of why ESL classroom talk is the way it is. Basing her answer on a case study of a school in an ESL community, she argues that classroom talk may be linked in important ways to an operative sociocultural structure of ESL pedagogy over and above the classroom at the institutional level. International Journal of Language Studies (IJLS) - volume 7(1) Mohammad Ali Salmani

Making Learning-Centred Teaching Work in Asia and Beyond Lynette Tan, Daniel Jew, Phyllis Blumberg, 2025-11-28 This book guides readers to transition their teaching to learning-centred practices. Based on Weimer's 2002/2013 and Blumberg's 2009/2019 framework, the authors describe their faculty learning community-based journey through the adaptation, implementation, and assessment of a series of practical learning-centred teaching strategies. While furnishing a critical discussion of challenges, directions, and development of learning-centred pedagogy as applied to an Asian context, this book provides suggested pathways for educators around the world to embark on their own journey toward learning-centred teaching. These pathways cover a range of disciplines and teaching contexts, from architecture and engineering to systems thinking and general education, illustrating the robustness and flexibility of learning-centred teaching. The authors provide examples of good teaching practice to help instructors, instructional designers, faculty developers, and university administrators see how principles of learning-centred teaching and assessment can translate practically into quality classroom teaching and learning. The rigorous assessment methodology is both highly reflective and readily applicable to teaching assessment and portfolio development. It also shows how Blumberg's 2019 rubrics and Cole Stavros' 2019 SOAR (Strengths, Opportunities, Aspirations, and Results) framework can be used to evaluate the impact of interventions. Contributing unique insights, this is a valuable guide for anyone interested in implementing student learning-centred pedagogical approaches and using rubrics for assessing teaching practice.

Understanding Interaction in the Second Language Classroom Context Noriko Iwashita, Phung Dao, Mai Xuan Nhat Chi Nguyen, 2025-03-07 This book provides an overview and analysis of the role that classroom interaction plays in instructed second language acquisition. The authors synthesise current state-of-the-art research on how classroom interaction benefits L2 learning through the lens of three theoretical perspectives: cognitive interactionist with a focus on how conversational interaction may promote L2 processing and learning; sociocultural, which assumes that cognitive advances are located within social interaction; and language socialisation, which examines how learners position themselves and are positioned in social interaction and how they establish their membership in the target language community They go on to critically examine how findings from this research can be applied to classroom practice in diverse L2 settings they then provide pedagogical implications and suggested teaching activities to support L2 teachers and teacher educators in harnessing the benefits of classroom interaction for L2 learning Authenticity and Linguistic Heritage in the Age of Globalization Florian Coulmas,2008 Cultural Interactions of English-Medium Instruction at Vietnamese Universities Thi Quynh Huong Luu,Helena Hing Wa Sit,Shen Chen,2022-12-16 This book presents a case study of English Medium Instruction EMI implemented by universities in Vietnam making valuable theoretical empirical and methodological contributions to the research in EMI which is currently a popular theme in the field of Higher Education The importance of internationalization of higher education has been widely recognized by many countries all over the world The spread of English as an international language has resulted in its crucial role in teaching and learning any disciplines Globally higher education in many non English speaking countries has witnessed rapid expansion of EMI which was initiated in Europe then to Asia and other continents which are featured with Cultural Circles spread in the world Although there are many publications with the same theme available today this monograph is unique because it is the first time to examine EMI classroom interaction from the cultural perspective specifically rather than from linguistic or pedagogical perspectives It is a pioneering attempt to discuss in depth about cultural issues relating to EMI namely 1 the social cultural context of EMI classes in higher education 2 the cultural backgrounds of EMI teachers and learners and 3 culture interactions between teachers and learners in EMI classrooms In addition both quantitative and qualitative methods are employed to collect data from teachers and learners Finally a context based model of EMI is proposed based on findings of this research As a country within the Confucius Heritage Cultural Circle Vietnam has been selected for this study because few studies to date are carried out in how EMI is culturally integrated to teaching and learning in the Vietnamese universities This book is a joint effort by international academics prepared for established scholars researchers educators and research higher degree students who are interested in higher education second and foreign language education and EMI teacher training Transforming Communication Dr. Vee J.
