

The cover features a dark blue background with three main biological illustrations. On the left, a hawk's wings are spread, showing detailed feather patterns. On the right, a yellow and green flower is shown in cross-section, with a thin, curved line extending from its center. At the bottom, a cluster of purple, rounded cells is depicted, each containing colorful internal structures. The title 'BIOLOGY' is centered in a large, white, serif font, with the authors' names listed below it.

Evolution Education Around the Globe Hasan Deniz, Lisa A. Borgerding, 2018-06-21 This edited book provides a global view on evolution education. It describes the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe, Western Europe, North Africa, South Africa, North America, South America, Middle East, Far East, South East Asia, Australia, and New Zealand. Studies in evolution education literature can be divided into three main categories: a) understanding the interrelationships among cognitive, affective, epistemological, and religious factors that are related to people's views about evolution; b) designing/implementing/evaluating evolution education curriculum that reflects contemporary evolution understanding; and c) reducing antievolutionary attitudes. This volume systematically summarizes the evolution education literature across these three categories for each country or geographical region. The individual chapters thus include common elements that facilitate a cross-cultural meta-analysis. Written for a primarily academic audience, this book provides a much-needed common background for future evolution education research across the globe.

The War Within Krystle Shapiro MSHN LMT, 2018-09-28 The statistics about veteran suicide have changed little over the years, hovering most consistently at twenty suicides a day. Most emphasis has been placed on increasing the availability of mental health services for returning soldiers, yet theaters of war present a myriad of factors affecting human health: from exposures to toxic elements, extreme environments, and a lack of proper nutrition, not to mention the emotional experiences that all together create a cascade of individualized chemical messenger responses to unrelenting stressors. The War Within informs soldiers, veterans, family members, and caretakers how to first understand what happens to the body under such stressors in theaters of war and how this affects the brain. Once one understands what has happened to the physical body, then appropriate decisions and practices can be undertaken to restore the physical reserves of our warriors, ultimately reversing the heartbreaking suicidal trend that we recognize is currently taking place. The War Within presents a five-part, well-researched program that can serve as a vital complement to the important mental health programs presently being provided for our soldiers and veterans. This program is easy to implement into daily routines and it enables restoration of optimal brain function, thus reducing the incidence of depression, hopelessness, fatigue, and suicidal ideation.

Organismal Agency Jana Švorcová, 2024-05-09 This book explores the notion of organismal agency from the perspective of both philosophy and biology. The two sections of the book delve into parallel themes including distinctions between organic and inorganic nature, self-organization, autonomy, self-presentation, memory, Umwelt, and environmental influence. The philosophical part focuses on the influential thinkers who shaped our perception of living entities beyond mere mechanisms. It scrutinizes the concepts of organism and nature in the works of Aristotle, Kant, Schelling, and various processualists. Each chapter explores facets of their ideas that directly or indirectly foreshadowed or contributed to the formulation of the concept of agency. The biological part of the book investigates various concepts associated with agency such as experience meaning attribution and phenotypic plasticity as well as reproduction organisational constraints modularity development of integrated phenotypes organismal choices or self representation through animal organisation In essence this work offers a comprehensive examination of organismal agency and its philosophical and biological foundations Collaboratively authored by individuals from several institutions this publication caters primarily to researchers and students working at the intersection of philosophy and biology Contaminated Land Management Judith Nathanail,Paul Bardos,Paul Nathanail,2011-11 Social Workers' Desk Reference ,2015-01-13 People all over the world are confronted by issues such as poverty a lack of access to quality education unaffordable and or inadequate housing and a lack of needed health and mental services on a daily basis Due to these issues there is a need for social workers who have access to relevant and timely scholarly materials in order to meet the needs of those facing these issues The social psychological and biological factors resulting from these issues determine the level of a person s mental health at any given point in time and it is necessary for social workers to continue to evolve and develop to the new faces and challenges of the times in order to adequately understand the effects of these issues In the first and second editions of the Social Workers Desk Reference the changes that were occurring in social work practice education and research were highlighted and focused upon This third edition continues in the same tradition and continues to respond to the changes occurring in society and how they are impacting the education research and practice of social work as a whole With 159 chapters collaboratively written by luminaries in the profession this third edition serves as a comprehensive guide to social work practice by providing the most recent conceptual knowledge and empirical evidence to aid in the understanding of the rapidly changing field of social work Each chapter is short and contains practical information in addition to websites and updated references Social work practitioners educators students and other allied professionals can utilize the Social Workers Desk Reference to gain interdisciplinary and interprofessional education practice and research The Journal of Cell Biology ,2001 No 2 pt 2 of November issue each year from v 19 1963 47 1970 and v 55 1972 contain the Abstracts of papers presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Society for Cell Biology 3d 1963 10th 1970 and 12th 1972
