Confessions of a False Messiah Chinedu Nnadi,2026-02-16 A forgotten monastery A buried manuscript A confession that should not exist When historian Elias Ward is summoned to authenticate a first century document discovered beneath ancient ruins in Turkey he expects controversy He does not expect murder The manuscript written in chilling first person claims to be the testimony of a man history would come to worship But its words whisper a heresy powerful enough to fracture civilizations the messiah was engineered Within days of examining the text members of the excavation team are found dead Elias becomes the next target Hunted across Rome Istanbul and Jerusalem he joins forces with relentless investigative journalist Leila Haddad to uncover who wants the confession erased and why As they decode its pages the past begins to breathe The voice inside the manuscript tells of staged miracles manufactured prophecies and a secret brotherhood that shaped a fragile revolutionary into a divine symbol to stabilize a collapsing empire If the confession is genuine it threatens to expose two thousand years of calculated mythmaking Powerful forces close in religious authorities desperate to preserve order shadow agencies determined to prevent global unrest and zealots who would kill to defend belief With riots brewing and faith hanging in the balance Elias faces an impossible choice reveal the truth and risk igniting chaos or bury it and become complicit in history s greatest deception Because some confessions don t ask for forgiveness They demand reckoning

Bolder Carl Honoré,2019-03-05 Carl Honoré captured the zeitgeist with his international bestseller In Praise of Slow Now he tackles another rising global movement our revolutionary new approach to a human inevitability ageing A revolution in how we age is on its way Yes ageing is inevitable one year from now we will all be a year older that will never change What can and will change is how we age and how we can all take a much bolder approach to doing it with vigour and joy The time has come to cast off prejudices and to blur the lines of what is possible and permissible at every stage of life In other words we need to learn to re imagine our approach to later life Emboldening ourselves in older age demands big structural changes For a start we will have to tear up the old script that locks us into devoting the early part of our life to education the middle chunk to working and raising kids and whatever is left over at the end to leisure In an age inappropriate world these silos will dissolve We ll embrace the idea that we can carry on learning from start to finish that we can work less and devote more time to family leisure and giving back to our communities in our middle years and that we can remain active and engaged in our later years Carl Honor has travelled the globe speaking to influential figures who are bucking preconceived notions of age whether at work or in their personal lives He looks at the cultural medical and technological developments that are opening new possibilities for us all Bolder is a radical re think of our approach to everything from education healthcare and work to design relationships and politics An essential and inspiring read for everyone interested in our collective future
