The Origins of Religious Violence Nicholas F. Gier, 2014-08-20 Religiously motivated violence caused by the fusion of state and religion occurred in medieval Tibet and Bhutan and later in imperial Japan but interfaith conflict also followed colonial incursions in India Sri Lanka and Burma Before that time there was a general premodern harmony among the resident religions of the latter countries and only in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries did religiously motivated violence break out While conflict caused by Hindu fundamentalists has been serious and widespread a combination of medieval Tibetan Buddhists and modern Sri Lankan Japanese and Burmese Buddhists has caused the most violence among the Asian religions However the Chinese Taiping Christians have the world record for the number of religious killings by one single sect A theoretical investigation reveals that specific aspects of the Abrahamic religions an insistence on the purity of revelation a deity who intervenes in history but one who still is primarily transcendent may be primary causes of religious conflict Only one factor a mystical monism not favored in Judaism Christianity and Islam was the basis of a distinctively Japanese Buddhist call for individuals to identify totally with the emperor and to wage war on behalf of a divine ruler The Origins of Religious Violence An Asian Perspective uses a methodological heuristic of premodern modern and constructive postmodern forms of thought to analyze causes and offer solutions to religious violence The River of Lost Footsteps Thant Myint-U., 2007 Why States Recover Greg Mills, 2015-01-03 State failure takes many forms Somalia offers one extreme The country's prolonged civil war led to the collapse of central authority with state control devolving to warlord led factions that competed for the spoils of local commerce political power and international aid Malawi on the other hand is at the other end of the scale During President Bingu's second term in office the country's economy collapsed as a result of poor policies and Bingu's brand of personal politics On the surface Malawi's economy seemed largely stable underneath however the polity was fractured and the economy broken In between these two extremes of state failure are all manner of examples many of which Mills explores in the fascinating and profoundly personal Why States Recover Throughout he returns to his key questions how do countries recover What roles should both insiders and outsiders play to aid that process Drawing on research in more than thirty countries and incorporating interviews with a dozen leaders Mills examines state failure and identifies instances of recovery in Latin America Asia and Africa For anyone interested in the reasons behind states failure and remedies to ensure future economic stability it is important reading Billions of Entrepreneurs Tarun Khanna, 2008-02-01 China and India are home to one third of the world's population And they're undergoing social and economic revolutions that are capturing the best minds and money of Western business In Billions of Entrepreneurs Tarun Khanna examines the entrepreneurial forces driving China's and India's trajectories of development He shows where these trajectories overlap and complement one another and where they diverge and compete He also reveals how Western companies can participate in this development Through intriguing comparisons the author probes important differences between China and India in areas such as information and transparency the roles of capital markets and talent public and private property rights social constraints on market forces attitudes toward expatriates abroad and foreigners at home entrepreneurial and corporate opportunities and the importance of urban and rural communities He explains how these differences will influence China's and India's future development what the two countries can learn from each other and how they will ultimately reshape business politics and society in the world around them Engaging and incisive this book is a critical resource for anyone working in China or India or planning to do business in these two countries Ethnic Conflict and Social Services in Myanmar's Contested Regions Kim Jolliffe,2014 Southeast Asia and the English School of International Relations L.
