Harare North:

Harare North Brian Chikwava, 2009-04-02 When he lands in Harare North our unnamed protagonist carries nothing but a cardboard suitcase full of memories and a longing to be reunited with his childhood friend Shingi He ends up in Shingi's Brixton squat where the inhabitants function at various levels of desperation Shingi struggles to find meaningful work and to meet the demands of his family back home Tsitsi makes a living renting her baby out to women defrauding the Social Services As our narrator struggles to make his way in Harare North negotiating life outside the legal economy and battling with the weight of what he has left behind in strife torn Zimbabwe every expectation and preconception is turned on its head This is the story of a stranger in a strange land one of the thousands of illegal immigrants seeking a better life in England with a past he is determined to hide

The Globalization of Space John Miller, 2015-10-06 The work of Michel Foucault has been influential in the analysis of space in a variety of disciplines most notably in geography and politics This collection of essays is the first to focus on what Foucault termed heterotopias spaces that exhibit multiple layers of meaning and reveal tensions within society

The Cambridge Companion to British Black and Asian Literature (1945-2010) Deirdre Osborne, 2016-10-14 This Companion offers a comprehensive account of the influence of contemporary British Black and Asian writing in British culture While there are a number of anthologies covering Black and Asian literature there is no volume that comparatively addresses fiction poetry plays and performance and provides critical accounts of the qualities and impact within one book It charts the distinctive Black and Asian voices within the body of British writing and examines the creative and cultural impact that African Caribbean and South Asian writers have had on British literature It analyzes literary works from a broad range of genres while also covering performance writing and non fiction It offers pertinent historical context throughout and new critical perspectives on such key themes as multiculturalism and evolving cultural identities in contemporary British literature This Companion explores race politics gender sexuality identity amongst other key literary themes in Black and Asian British literature It will serve as a key resource for scholars graduates teachers and students alike

Bad English Rachael Gilmour, 2020-07-28 Bad English investigates the impact of increasing language diversity precipitated by migration globalisation and new forms of communication in transforming contemporary literature in Britain Considering writers whose work engages experimentally playfully and ambivalently with English's power while exploring what it means to move between forms of language it makes the case for literature as the pre eminent medium to probe the terms of linguistic belonging and for a diverse and growing field of writing in Britain defined by its inside outside relationship to English in its institutionalised forms Bad English offers innovative readings of writers including James Kelman Tom Leonard Suhayl Saadi Raman Mundair Daljit Nagra Xiaolu Guo Leila Aboulela Brian Chikwava and Caroline Bergvall Drawing on insights from applied linguistics and translation studies as well as literary scholarship it will appeal to students and academics across these disciplines disenfranchised starved This is the only book to tell the full story of the birth of a dictatorship including the 2008 election travesty Robert Gabriel Mugabe a former teacher and guerrilla leader swept to power in Zimbabwe on a tide of euphoria in 1980 with the promise of peace prosperity and racial harmony He proceeded to preside over the economic ruination of the country which he himself once described as the Jewel of Africa In his desperate attempts to create and perpetuate a one party state he thwarted the democratic process used torture against his own people and deliberately obstructed aid organisations when they offered assistance to the persecuted and starving This is the first book to explain what goes on in Mugabe s mind and only by understanding this is it possible to understand why he has destroyed his country and what is about to happen there now The African Book Publishing Record ,2012 Behind the Smokescreen John Mw Makumbe,Daniel Compagnon,2000 The 1995 general election was the third in the post independence period in Zimbabwe and the first to be held in the country since the international demise of the one party socialist state and the introduction of Structural Adjustment Policies This work represents a comprehensive empirical study of these elections undertaken by the Department of Political Studies at the University of Zimbabwe and an independent French Research Institute Beyond the electoral results considered from the outset a foregone conclusion the study analyses the Zimbabwe elections as a process in order to provide a deeper understanding of how the ruling elite the ZANU PF uses the electoral process and pretences of fairness and democracy to maintain authoritarian rule and argues that the electoral process itself may be considered an indicator of entrenched political domination At every level the study intends to redress propagandist or naive perceptions of
