and the Netherlands offer a first assessment of the paths that German poetry has taken into the new millennium. Alongside in-depth analyses of established names are broader surveys of poetry of the body, the use of cliché theories of metaphor, the topos of childhood, the new simplicity, and contributions dedicated to the youngest generation of poets making their debut in the new century. The volume also contains an interview with Heinz Czechowski, a substantial bibliography, and new poems by eight leading poets. Poetry is too often marginalised in discussions about literature in the Berlin Republic; this volume demonstrates that it has a vital role to play at their heart.

The Exile and Return of Writers from East-Central Europe

John Neubauer, Borbála Zsuzsanna Török, 2009. Main description: This first comparative study of writers who fled from both the Nazi and Communist dictatorships in East-Central Europe includes interpretations of individual trajectories, literary works, and exile literary cultures. A historical and theoretical introduction provides an overview of the events and studies, exile cultures from Paris, London, and New York to Moscow, Toronto, and Buenos Aires. Interpretations of select writers are complemented by studies of the main exile journals, publishers, and associations. Special attention is devoted to the problems of homecoming.

The Appointment

Herta Müller, 2001-09-13. From the winner of the IMPAC Award and the Nobel Prize, a fierce novel about a young Romanian woman's discovery of betrayal in the most intimate reaches of her life. I've been summoned. Thursday, ten sharp. Thus begins one day in the life of a young clothing factory worker during Ceaucescu's totalitarian regime. She has been questioned before; this time she believes will be worse. Her crime: sewing notes into the linings of men's suits bound for Italy. Marry me, the notes say, with her name and address. Anything to get out of the country. As she rides the tram to her interrogation, her thoughts stray to her friend Lilli, shot trying to flee to Hungary, to her grandparents deported after her first husband informed on them to Major Albu, her interrogator, who begins each session with a wet kiss on her fingers and to Paul, her lover, her one source of trust despite his constant drunkenness. In her distraction, she misses her stop, to find herself on an unfamiliar street. And what she discovers there makes her fear of the appointment pale by comparison. Herta Müller pitilessly renders the humiliating terrors of a crushing regime. Bone-spare and intense. The Appointment confirms her standing as one of Europe's greatest writers.

Nadirs

Herta Müller, 1998-11-11. The protagonist of Herta Müller's Traveling on One Leg is Irene, a fragile woman born to a German family in Romania who has recently emigrated from Romania to Germany. The novel focuses on Irene's relationship with three men: Franz, whom she met in Romania and who was unwilling to respond to her love for him; Stefan, a friend of Franz's; and Thomas, a bisexual bookseller in perpetual crisis. Despite being born to a German family, Irene's place in Germany is as a recent emigre and an unassimilated Romanian-German. She feels neither longing for Romania nor any comfort in her newly adopted Germany. Politically and socially isolated, Irene moves within the emotional orbit of these three men while, at the same time, moving between West Berlin, Marburg, and Frankfurt, taking a dissonant journey within strange yet familiar territory. Characterized by the same sense of profound isolation found in Müller's

Deutschland ,2010 Contemporary German Prose in Britain and France (1980-1999) Wiebke Sievers,2007 This case study of the translation of contemporary German literature in Britain and France seeks to address the philosophical and anthropological problem of otherness and to discover its significance for translation theory This work should appeal to scholars interested in German British and French literature translation theory philosophy and sociology central component of the translation process Moreover via disciplines such as philosophy and anthropology otherness in the last two decades has entered Western theories and studies of translation and become an important analytical and normative category in the field of translation studies Nevertheless there is an apparent lack of research considering the concept itself as well as its history and current use in the field and its relevance for the practice of translation the translation theories currently known as foreignizing and shows that some of these draw on the same nationalist agenda that they try to transcend Moreover the ensuing case study proves that current translation practice is still governed by a nationalist assurance of linguistic and cultural differences This book therefore concludes by calling for a change of perspective in the theoretical and practical approaches to translation Translation should no longer be regarded as a means of delimiting our selves from a national other but as a way to uncover the otherness underlying these alleged selves The Land of Green Plums Herta Müller,2010-11-23 The lives of a group of Romanian students under Communism with its poverty regimentation and depressing greyness Life gets no better after graduation so much so that several commit suicide The Hunger Angel Herta Müller,2012-04-24 In her new novel Nobel laureate Muller calls upon her unique combination of poetic intensity and dispassionate precision to conjure the distorted world of the Gulag in all its physical and moral absurdity The Secret Police Dossier of Herta Müller Valentina N.
