Inside the Night Ibrāhīm Naṣr Allāh,2007 I could not believe that human beings could forget so easily Love and life sex and death childhood and oppression are Inside the Night Vivid moments of remembrance disparate yet interconnected come together to form the body torn but not broken of this novel Beginning with a scene of departure the two nameless narrators roam back and forth in time veering from childhood mischief to a Palestinian refugee camp massacre from ardent first love to necessary migration to an Arab oil country for employment from spirited adolescent fantasies to the grim reality of life in an Arab country whose claims to progress are mounted on the bent backs of its people A forest of interwoven tales and strange destinies Ibrahim Nasrallah s novel carves the history of a people over half a century into fragments that are poetic multi sensory and richly evocative Inside the Night s self contained freedom is a refreshing development in the corpus of Palestinian and human literature

The Lodging House Khayrī Shalabī,2006 A young man s dreams for a better future as a student in the Teachers Institute are shattered after he assaults one of his instructors for discriminating against him From then on he begins his descent into the underworld This novel takes on epic dimensions as the narrator escorts us on a journey to this underworld

Stranger Fictions Rebecca C. Johnson,2021-01-15 Zaynab first published in 1913 is widely cited as the first Arabic novel yet the previous eight decades saw hundreds of novels translated into Arabic from English and French This vast literary corpus influenced generations of Arab writers but has until now been considered a curious footnote in the genre's history Incorporating these works into the history of the Arabic novel Stranger Fictions offers a transformative new account of modern Arabic literature world literature and the novel Rebecca C Johnson rewrites the history of the global circulation of the novel by moving Arabic literature from the margins of comparative literature to its center Considering the wide range of nineteenth and early twentieth century translation practices including bad translation mistranslation and pseudotranslation Johnson argues that Arabic translators did far more than copy European works they authored new versions of them producing sophisticated theorizations of the genre These translations and the reading practices they precipitated form the conceptual and practical foundations of Arab literary modernity necessitating an overhaul of our notions of translation cultural exchange and the global Examining nearly a century of translations published in Beirut Cairo Malta Paris London and New York from Qiat R binun Kur z The story of Robinson Crusoe in 1835 to pastiche crime stories in early twentieth century Egyptian magazines Johnson shows how translators theorized the Arab world not as Europe's periphery but as an alternative center in a globalized network Stranger Fictions affirms the central place of mis translation in both the history of the novel in Arabic and the novel as a transnational form itself Modern Arabic Fiction Salma Khadra Jayyusi, 2005 Beginning with the late nineteenth century cultural resurgence and continuing through the present day short stories and novels have given voice to the personal and historical experiences of modern Arabs This anthology offers a rich and diverse selection of works from more than one hundred and forty prominent Arab writers of fiction The collection reflects Arab writers formal inventiveness as well as their intense exploration of various dimensions of modern Arab life including the impact of modernity the rise of the oil economy political authoritarianism corruption religion poverty and the Palestinian experience in modern times Salma Khadra Jayyusi a renowned scholar of Arabic literature has included short stories and excerpts from novels from authors in every Arab country Modern Arabic Fiction contains writings stretching from the pioneering work of late nineteenth and early twentieth century authors to the novels of Naguib Mahfouz and the stories of contemporary Arab writers In addition to familiar names such as Mahfouz the anthology presents excerpts from writers well known in the Arab world but just beginning to find an audience in the West including early twentieth century Lebanese writer Jurji Zaydan whose historical epics were eye openers for generations of Arab readers to the achievements of medieval Islamic civilization Yusuf Idris's complex and brilliant portrait of Egypt's poor Abd al Rahman Muneef's searing exploration of the ecological and social impact of oil production Palestinian writer Jabra Ibrahim Jabra's sophisticated description of the dilemma's of modern Arab intellectuals and Jamal al Ghitani's impressive employment of mythical time and the continuity of the past in the present Jayyusi provides biographical information on the writers as well as a substantial and illuminating introduction to the development of modern Arabic fictional genres that considers the central thematic and aesthetic concerns of Arab short story writers and novelists The Tree Stump Samiha Khrais, 2019-07-01 One of the most prominent Arabic novels to document the intricate details of the revolt of the Arabs against the Turks and their collaboration with the English The Tree Stump brings to life a critical period of history that includes key players such as King Faisal Odeh Abu Tayeh and T E Lawrence It places the reader in the heart of that remarkable era with accuracy authenticity and an added human dimension that introduces the Arabian Desert people traditions and way of life Author Samiha Khrais weaves tribal customs religion politics and love into a history with characters that actually walked the land lived on the land and fought the land s war of independence with originality pride and wisdom The novel stands witness to the lived experience of many Arabs in the region experience that can still be seen today The novel s style content and strong human dimension makes it an exception literary work with regional flavor and global appeal Pyramid Texts Gamal al-Ghitani,2007-02-01 With its Sufistic parables of the human condition rendered in a style redolent of both the austere meditations of Borges and the dark engorged ruminations of Arthur C Clark Pyramid Texts engages the mind and beguiles the imagination In a series of chapters each shorter than the last so that like their subjects they taper ultimately into nothingness the author evokes the obsessions that have drawn men over the centuries to the brooding presence of mankind s most ancient and mysterious monuments Among others in a procession of exotic characters a Moroccan seeker after knowledge spends years contemplating the pyramids in the hope that one day he will understand the mysterious writing that fitfully appears on their sides Another waits patiently for the moment when the shadow of one will diverge from its accustomed path and bestow immortality and the Sphinx performs a celestial dance Pyramid Texts leads us into a world of endless passages and mysterious sighing winds a world whose claustrophobic and shadowy spaces may be illuminated by flashes of ecstasy leading to scintillating transfigurations and dizzying annihilations Tradition, Modernity, and Postmodernity in Arabic Literature Issa J. Boullata,Kamal Abdel-Malek,Wael B. Hallaq,2000 In this collection of essays various manifestations of traditional as well as modern and postmodern themes and techniques in Arabic literature are explored For the first time the tripartite concepts of tradition modernity and postmodernity in Arabic literary works are analyzed in one volume
