Landscape Ecology in Action A. Farina, 2012-12-06

In my office I am encased in bookshelves which hold an accumulation of literature on ecology that represents the papers and books over the last 50 years My students enjoy rummaging through this collection because it contains a record of the history of ecology and is full of surprises Some of the most recent material pertains to landscape ecology a subject that literally emerged fully active at the Veldhoven International Congress organized by the landscape ecologists of The Netherlands in 1981 The subject has developed quickly It has one or more journals which publish short works It has a series of text books And it has just begun a series on monographs One of the textbooks in landscape ecology is titled Principles and Methods in Landscape Ecology and was written by the Italian ecologist Almo Farina in 1998 My students like this text especially well because it is direct to the point and comprehensive Farina is on loan much of the time In the present volume Almo Farina again addresses the subject of Landscape Ecology but from a different perspective than he took in his textbook Landscape in Action focuses on the application of the principles and concepts to problem solving The two books make a pair with the first technical and conceptual and the second applied to problems of land and water at large scale

Between Heaven and Earth Fred Van Dyke, 2010-07-01 The first comprehensive survey of Christian environmental ethics and activism offers a Christian understanding of environmental conservation protection and stewardship that speaks directly to ongoing environmental issues There are many books on Christian environmental ethics but none provides a clear and thorough analysis of the history of the church's understanding of and practices toward the care of creation In addition to filling this important void Between Heaven and Earth Christian Perspectives on Environmental Protection is also unique in at least two ways First it frames Christian responses to ethical questions as they are understood by modern conservation ethicists Second it addresses issues of conservation management and policy as they really exist This captivating volume begins by framing the complex interaction between ethics environment and faith and the relation of that interaction to questions of environmental ethics Subsequent chapters illuminate a biblical understanding of the human relationship to nature and the church's teachings and practices regarding that relationship illustrated through the lives of scholars and saints The book concludes with an examination of the ways in which Christian practice and teaching can shape environmental policy today and the ways in which partnerships can be built between the church and the environmental community
