OSMOSIS & DIFFUSION

OSMOSIS & DIFFUSION

PERMEABILITY

- Membranes can be:
- permeable - allow all substances to pass in & out
 - impermeable - allow no substances to pass in & out
 - semi-permeable - allow some but not all substances (usually water) to pass in & out
- by using energy

Biological membranes are selectively permeable. They allow substances such as H_2O , Na^+ and Cl^- to pass in & out.

However, they do not allow organic molecules and cells to pass through easily if active transport is needed.

Active transport - movement of molecules from an area of high concentration to an area of low concentration using energy.

Diffusion - movement of molecules from an area of high concentration to an area of low concentration not using energy.

Water is a small molecule that can pass in & out of membranes in an area of low concentration.

Water transport - an energy needed

- 1 - Absorbing water from your drink
- 2 - Absorbing water from soil
- 3 - Sweating & drinking water from your bottle

OSMOSIS

Osmosis - the movement of WATER molecules from a high-concentration area to a low concentration in an area of low water concentration.

Osmosis is passive transport - no energy needed.

Osmosis is a special type of diffusion.

- Movement of water molecules only
- Movement across a semi-permeable membrane

OSMOSIS & BLOOD CELLS

Cell in a solution that is hypotonic to its own cytoplasm.

- Water moves into cell by osmosis
- Cell swells and may burst

Cell in a solution that is isotonic to its own cytoplasm.

- Water moves into cell by osmosis
- Cell shrinks and may burst

Cell in a solution that is hypertonic to its own cytoplasm.

- Water moves out of cell by osmosis
- Cell shrinks and may burst

OSMOSIS & PLANTS

Plants have cells in hypotonic areas where the water level is in the atmosphere. This means that the cells are in a hypotonic solution.

Plants have an osmosis system to regulate water and prevent it from leaving. This is done by the cuticle on the leaves.

Plants that live in the sea and drink sea water have a special system to deal with the water in the water concentration of their cytoplasm.

It is important that the plant doesn't get too dry. This means that the plant has to have a special system to regulate water and prevent it from leaving. This is done by the cuticle on the leaves.

OSMOSIS & PLANT CELLS

Plant cell walls are fully permeable.

Plant cells in a hypotonic solution:

- Water moves into cell by osmosis
- Cell swells and may burst if it can't
- The cell wall and cytoplasm are pushed out and thickened
- The strength of cell wall prevents it from bursting

Turgid (swollen) - the normal pressure in the cytoplasm and cell wall against the cell wall in a plant

Turgid pressure puts a push out great enough to balance it with pull from thickening of the cell wall in osmosis.

Plant cells only swell if they are in a hypotonic solution.
