China's Railway Expansion in 40 Years of Economic Reform and Opening Up Xueyong ZHANG, 2025-11-22 This book is the result of a decade of rigorous study on the interplay between the Chinese railway system and national social progress. It examines the reform, opening up, innovation, and development of Chinese railways over the past 40 years. This book traces the evolution of the role played by the Chinese railway sector, initially as a bottleneck in the national economy to the present vital engine of growth, highlighting its journey of restructure and transformation. The target audience includes general readers interested in China's modern history, as well as the development of the Chinese railway industry, and experts and researchers in related fields. The introduction defines railway history and explores the key factors driving the development of China's railway system post-reform. The first four chapters respectively unveil the four significant phases of railway reform and opening up: the initial reform attempts (1978-1985), proactive changes (1986-1991), the transition to a market economy (1992-2003), and comprehensive promotion (2004-2018). Chapters 5 and 6 focus on the rise of high-speed railway in China and its global expansion. The conclusion articulates the essence of railway modernization and its relationship to broader reform initiatives.

Chinese Railways in the Era of High Speed Zhenhua Chen, Kingsley E. Haynes, 2015-09-07 This book reflects on experiences in other countries and makes recommendations for improving the capability and capacity of institutions and organizations in order to achieve sustainable development of the Chinese high-speed railway (HSR) system.

Chinese State Owned Enterprises in West Africa Katy Ngan Ting Lam, 2016-12-08 This book investigates the globalization process of Chinese state-owned enterprises (SOEs) in West Africa, primarily in Benin and Ghana, based on ethnographical studies. It challenges the dominant vision of a powerful China in Africa and argues that the so-called Chinese business advantages, monolithic Chinese state, and Chinese low-cost advantages are non-viable for sustaining Chinese business development in the continent. Considering the Chinese SOEs' globalization process in a relational approach, this book examines how the triple embeddedness (Chinese, African, and managerial) shapes the Chinese SOEs' globalization process over time and space in diverse dimensions and among different entities: the Chinese state, Chinese SOEs, Chinese expatriates, the African government, African business partners, African staff, and the African society. It illustrates that the Chinese central state has retreated deliberately from its SOE globalization in Africa. The Chinese SOEs and Chinese expats are the major actors in initiating and inventing globalization strategies, facing limited Chinese state support and the African neopatrimonial governance and social contexts. Besides the personal trajectories from expatriation to social promotion of Chinese SOE expats, interweave with the globalization turn, localization of their SOEs in Africa. Rejecting the linear, static, and binary vision of powerful China in powerless Africa, the present study thus emphasizes power dynamics in Chinese SOEs' globalization process, which are organic and pluralistic, though in certain extent hierarchical. Second-class time and local relations are key elements constituting the real Chinese advantages for Chinese SOEs vis-à-vis their ultimate competitors, not Western.
