rich countries with very high Gross Domestic Product or even high Human Development Index therefore poverty is not always economical and roots within society The nature of society is rooted in culture which is set of ideas norms and values and structure which is the fundamental organization of society into its institutions groups statuses and roles While evaluating the difference between real culture and ideal culture lead us to understand that cultural values are not always consistent even within the same society Global poverty dates back to centuries of plunder and confiscation of land and riches from the indigenous people under the flag of colonialism and exploitation Over years exploitation has led the current economic system being funded by the poor through theft of land and natural resources unfair debt settlement and unjust taxes on labor and consumption Social inequality in sense of distribution of material possessions money power prestige relationship whether within societies or among them is a topic at the heart of sociology The theory of a Culture of Poverty describes the combination of factors that perpetuate patterns of inequality and poverty in society This theory states that living in conditions of prevalent poverty leads to the development of a culture or subculture adapted to those conditions and characterized by prevalent feelings of vulnerability dependency marginality and feebleness The myth of the Culture of Poverty intensifying Cultural Poverty Cycle of poverty or development trap insufficiency of materialist information society necessity of knowledge society and other key factors in crafting the third world are discussed in this book The Third World Country or People takes a systematic approach to the analysis of human lives and interactions and evaluates various fields including anthropology economics political science ethnic studies area studies gender studies cultural studies

Sahar Hashemi,2014-12 For the first time successful entrepreneur and business leader Sahar Hashemi examines the aftermath of her sale of Coffee Republic and uses the experience to provide a template for big business success It is a commonly held belief that eventually organizational culture replaces entrepreneurial energy that you don t behave like a startup when you re no longer a startup Yet in a world of continuous development innovation and change the entrepreneurial tools and skills of the passion phase remain integral for the success of every organization Explaining the clear dichotomy between entrepreneurial thinking and managerial thinking Hashemi shows leaders and managers how to bridge this gap so that big companies can not only maintain competitiveness in today s ever changing business environment but also have their internal culture prosper when it is driven by empowered authentic and engaged employees Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2003 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004 Politics, Economics and Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Felicien Dago,2004 Is the plight of sub Saharan Africa due to the inadequacies and mismanagement of its leaders historically and present the greediness of the developed nations or the African people themselves Drawing upon a wide range of sources Felicien Dago takes a hard look at the economy of sub Saharan Africa from all aspects and suggests ways and means in which the African people can and should be given the opportunity to pull their countries out of poverty and into prosperity This book is a must for anyone interested in the economics and future building of sub Saharan Africa
