The Production of Lateness Rahel Rivera Godoy-Benesch, 2020-05-11 This study examines how selected authors of the late 20th and early 21st centuries write about their creative processes in old age and thus purposefully produce a late style of their own Late life creativity has not always been viewed favourably Prevalent peak and decline models suggest that artists as they grow old cease to produce high quality work Aiming to counter such ageist discourses the present study proposes a new ethics of reading literary texts by elderly authors For this purpose it develops a methodology that consolidates textual analysis with cultural gerontology

The Book of Mothers Carrie Mullins, 2024-05-07 Timely and evergreen engaging and infuriating personal and universal a necessary reintroduction to some of fiction's most familiar mothers Cecile Richards bestselling author of Make Trouble and former president of Planned Parenthood A smart and engaging look at fifteen classic novels that have shaped our cultural notions of motherhood Sweet supportive dependable selfless Long before she had children of her own journalist Carrie Mullins knew how mothers should behave But how Where did these expectations come from and more importantly are they serving the mothers whose lives they shape Carrie s suspicion later crystallized while raising two small children was that our culture s idealization of motherhood was not only painfully limiting but harmful leaving women to cope with impossible standards standards rarely created by mothers themselves To discover how we might talk about motherhood in a more realistic nuanced and inclusive way Carrie turned to literature with memorable maternal figures for answers Moving through the literary canon from Pride and Prejudice and Little Women to The Great Gatsby Beloved Heartburn and The Joy Luck Club Carrie traces the origins of our modern mothering experience By interrogating the influences of politics economics feminism pop culture and family life in each text she identifies the factors that have shaped our prevailing views of motherhood and puts these classics into conversation with the most urgent issues of the day Who were these literary mothers beyond their domestic responsibilities and familial demands And what lessons do they have for us today if we choose to listen

Motherhood and Creativity in Contemporary Self-Life Writing Alice Braun,2024-08-21 This book aims to study the representation of motherhood in self life writing by English speaking authors It highlights the particular issues women writers are faced with when they try to combine their vocation as artists with their duties towards their children For those women who claim their right to be both mothers and writers several cultural myths need to be taken down chief among which is the representations that we have of what being an artist should be like as well as the role a mother should have towards her children This book looks at self life writing by women from English speaking countries to reveal the common themes and tropes which recur in texts written on the subject of motherhood by looking at them from both a literary and a cultural perspective It also aims to demonstrate that a new generation of women writers is taking up the subject and forging a new literary tradition
