Connect to a wireless network • Connect to your router

1 Select your network from the available networks list (shown in a Command). If you do not have security enabled, you will connect to your network automatically. If you do have security enabled, go to Step 2 below.

Note: Only select Command view. The connection process will begin even though the button appears disabled.

Note: If the Dynamic Windows Networking utility did not open automatically, double-click the Windows Utility icon in the taskbar to open the task.

2 A. If you have security enabled and you have a Dynamic wireless router, you will be prompted to enter a password.

OK

B. If you have security enabled and you do not have a Dynamic wireless router, the Command to connect network screen appears. Enter the authentication key you created when you set up your wireless router (see Step 1 below). The computer will connect to the network, and the Dynamic Windows Networking utility will display the connection status.

Wireless View™ Status: Connected to a wireless network through the Network and Sharing Center, accessible through your computer's Control Panel.
