Contemporary Issues in Construction in Developing Countries George Ofori,2012-06-26 Economic growth and socio economic development are particularly important for developing countries and the construction industry plays a central role in driving both of these Traditionally the issues faced have been assumed to be merely offshoots of those encountered in industrialised nations and are usually discussed only in this context In addition research in construction management and economics has generally failed to take proper account of the unique or highly emphasised characteristics of the industries in developing countries or their economic and social environment This volume challenges underlying assumptions and focuses on the distinct characteristics of construction in developing countries In so doing it considers the issues from the perspective of the developing countries themselves to present a strong contemporary picture for researchers It forms a companion volume to New Perspectives on Construction in Developing Countries which provides an update on the generic subjects relating to the construction industry in developing countries and covers new concepts and issues

Roth, 2005 Encouraging Ethics and Challenging Corruption Noel Preston, Charles J. G. Sampford, Carmel Connors, 2002 Encouraging Ethics and Preventing Corruption brings theory and practice together in addressing the question: How are we to be ethical in public life and through public institutions? It is a major contribution to public sector ethics within Australia and internationally because it provides an exhaustive analysis of reform across a decade in one jurisdiction, Queensland, and then proceeds to itemise a best practice integrity system or ethics regime. Drawing on the extensive research of two of Australia's leading practical ethicists, this text is essential reading for all students and practitioners of applied and professional ethics in the public sphere. Part A of the text provides a preferred theoretical and conceptual framework which both justifies and guides the development of a public sector ethics regime. Part B examines the place of the individual within a world of institutional ethics. Part C outlines the Queensland governance reforms introduced since 1989 following the Fitzgerald Inquiry which exposed corruption in the police and ministry. The final chapter, the Epilogue, gathers the insights of earlier chapters and suggests a more explicitly ethics-centred approach to governance reform that may take us beyond best practice. Clearly, while it is the Australian context we have in mind, we are confident that this is a text which addresses the quest for integrity and ethics in government wherever society is committed to social and liberal democratic ideals. Management in Government, 2010 Journal of South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, 2006 Public Policy Issues and the Oliphant Commission Commission of Inquiry into Certain Allegations Respecting Business and Financial Dealings Between Karlheinz Schreiber and the Right Honourable Brian Mulroney (Canada), 2010. This volume collects the three expert studies produced for the Commission of Inquiry.
