

Chapter 5 Newton's Third Law of Motion
More on Vectors

1. Each of the vertically-suspended blocks has the same weight W . The two forces acting on Block C (W and rope tension T) are shown. Draw vectors to a reasonable scale for rope tensions acting on Blocks A and B.

2. The cart is pulled with force F at angle θ as shown. F_x and F_y are components of F .

a. How will the magnitude of F_x change if the angle θ is increased by a few degrees?

[more] [less] [no change]

b. How will the magnitude of F_y change if the angle θ is increased by a few degrees?

[more] [less] [no change]

c. What will be the value of F_x if angle θ is 90° ?

[more than F] [zero] [no change]

3. Force F pulls three blocks of equal mass across a friction-free table. Draw vectors of appropriate lengths for the rope tensions on each block.

If you're into trig,

$$\sin \theta = \frac{F_y}{F} ; \text{ so } F_y = F \sin \theta.$$

$$\cos \theta = \frac{F_x}{F} ; \text{ so } F_x = F \cos \theta.$$

4. Consider the boom supported by hinge A and by a cable B. Vectors are shown for the weight W of the boom at its center, and $W/2$ for vertical component of upward force supplied by the hinge.

a. Draw a vector representing the cable tension T at B. Why is it correct to draw its length so that the vertical component of $T = W/2$?

b. Draw component T_x at B. Then draw the horizontal component of the force at A. How do these horizontal components compare, and why?

5. The block rests on the inclined plane. The vector for its weight W is shown. How many other forces act on the block, including static friction? _____ . Draw them to a reasonable scale.

a. How does the component of W parallel to the plane compare with the force of friction? _____

b. How does the component of W perpendicular to the plane compare with the normal force? _____

Theoretical Nursing Afaf Ibrahim Meleis,2011 An additional assumption was that the processes for theory development were new to nursing and hence nurses in graduate programs learned strategies for advancing knowledge from other disciplines This assumption was debunked with the knowledge that nurses were always engaged in knowledge development driven by their experiences in clinical practice Because of these assumptions most of the early writing about theory development was about outlining strategies that should be used rather than strategies that have already been used in the discipline to develop theories Theorists themselves did not uncover or adequately discuss ways by which they developed their theories therefore the tendency was to describe processes that were based on theories developed in other disciplines mainly the physical and social sciences And an implicit assumption was made that there should be a single strategy for theory development some claiming to begin the process from practice and others believing it should be driven by research Provided by publisher
