Parts 1-3 cover respectively futures and forwards, options and swaps. Part 4 examines term structure modeling and the pricing of interest rate derivatives while Part 5 is concerned with credit derivatives and the modeling of credit risk. Part 6 discusses computational issues.

Cases in the Environment of Business David W. Conklin, 2006. The Ivey Casebooks Series is a co-publishing partnership between SAGE Publications and the Richard Ivey School of Business at The University of Western Ontario. Due to their popularity in more than 60 countries, approximately 200 new cases are added to the Ivey School of Business library each year. Each of the casebooks comes equipped with instructor's resources on CD-ROM. These affordable collections will not only help students connect to real world situations but will benefit corporations seeking continued education in the field as well. Broadening the scope of environmental forces to a global rather than a domestic context leads to cross-country comparisons that add complexity to the subject matter, enrich analytical theories, and heighten the interest of students. Students gain an appreciation for the many ways in which environmental forces interact, creating a set of risks and opportunities that is unique in each country and that must be evaluated in formulating trade and investment decisions.

Cases in the Environment of Business offers an outstanding collection of relevant, classroom-tested cases. In discussing the cases, students will participate in managerial decisions in an international context. Most cases deal with a variety of environmental forces, but generally a single set of forces plays a predominant role. The instructor's resources on CD-ROM include detailed 6-10 page case notes for each case, preparation questions for students to review before class, discussion questions, and suggested further readings.

Cases in the Environment of Business addresses the following five sets of environmental forces:

- Industry Structure: Responses to strategies of customers, suppliers, and competitors; dependence of profitability on unique value-added attributes; and the shift of certain activities to low wage countries.
- Macroeconomic Variables: Income levels and growth rates, foreign exchange rates, inflation rates, interest rates, and unemployment rates.
- Political Variables: Regulations, financial incentives, taxation, foreign investment restrictions, and international trade and investment agreements.
- Societal Variables: Labor and environmental practices, ethics, corporate social responsibility, boards of directors, and demographics.
- Technological Variables: Technological infrastructure and the pace and direction of technological changes, including in particular the Internet and e-business.

The IVEY Casebook Series includes:

- Cases in Business Ethics
- Cases in Entrepreneurship
- Cases in Gender Diversity in Organizations
- Cases in Operations Management
- Cases in Organizational Behavior
- Cases in the Environment of Business
- Cases in Alliance Management
- Mergers and Acquisitions

Text and Cases: The Political Economy of International Capital Mobility Matthew Watson, 2007-07-03. Matthew Watson draws a distinction between the spatial and the functional mobility of capital, allowing fresh insights into existing work on the subject whilst repoliticizing the very idea of capital being in motion.

The dynamics of capital mobility and the patterns of risk exposure are illustrated through four detailed global case studies region Fixed Income and Credit Derivatives Rangarajan K. Sundaram,2006 A Direct Approach to Arbitrage-free Pricing of Credit Derivatives Sanjiv Ranjan Das,1998 This paper develops a framework for modeling risky debt and valuing credit derivatives that is flexible and simple to implement and that is to the maximum extent possible based on observables Our approach is based on expanding the Heath Jarrow Morton term structure model to allow for defaultable debt We do not follow the procedure of implying out the behavior of spreads from assumptions concerning the default process instead working directly with the evolution of spreads We show that risk neutral drifts in the resulting model possess a recursive representation that particularly facilitates implementation and makes it possible to handle path dependence and early exercise features without difficulty The framework permits embedding a variety of specifications for default we present an empirical example of a default structure which provides promising calibration results Derivative Securities and Risk Management in Asia and Australia Sundaram Janakiraman,2007 A Discrete-time Approach to Arbitrage-free Pricing of Credit Derivatives Sanjiv Ranjan Das,Rangarajan K.
