

Sleep hygiene

Sleep hygiene refers to good sleep habits. The following are some ways of establishing and maintaining healthy sleep routines, and can provide long-term solutions to sleep difficulties:

Routines

Teach your body to get ready for sleep

- Go to bed and get up at regular times
- Develop a personal, relaxing, pre-bed routine e.g. stretching or breathing exercises
- A hot bath 1-2 hours before bed or a warm glass of milk can help
- Teach your body to link 'bed' with 'sleeping' - avoid using the bed to eat, work, read, or use electronic devices

Environment

Are your surroundings suitable for sleep?

- A cooler room with enough blankets for warmth is best
- Use heavy curtains/blinds, an eyemask and/or earplugs to block out light and noise

Diet, exercise and napping

What you do in the day impacts your sleep at night

- Avoid naps, or restrict naps to less than 1 hour before 3pm
- Avoid caffeine, nicotine, and alcohol at least 4-6 hours before bed
- Avoid looking at bright screens (e.g. phone, tablet) 2-3 hours before bed
- Exercise regularly but avoid strenuous exercise within 4 hours of bedtime
- Maintain a balanced diet but avoid a large meal soon before bed

Reactions

How we respond to poor night's sleep can help make or break a poor sleep cycle

- If you can't fall asleep after about 20 minutes, get up, do a calm or boring activity until you feel sleepy, then return to bed
- Avoid frequently checking the clock at night
- Try to do everything you had planned for the day, even if you slept poorly the night before

Enhancing Geriatric Care: International Collaboration and Best Practices for Aging Populations Peter

Crome, Esther-Lee Marcus, Marios Kyriazis, 2025-10-28 Geriatric Medicine has emerged as a crucial field since its inception in the mid twentieth century by Marjory Warren in England This area of healthcare focuses on the unique needs of the aging population which is rapidly increasing worldwide While some countries have developed comprehensive geriatric care systems including specialized medical professionals community services and palliative care others are still grappling with the challenges of providing adequate services for their elderly citizens The disparity in geriatric care across different nations highlights the need for a global exchange of knowledge and strategies Recent studies have shown that countries with well established geriatric care systems can serve as models for those still developing their services However there remains a significant gap in understanding how these successful frameworks can be adapted and implemented in diverse cultural and economic contexts Addressing this gap is essential for ensuring that all aging populations receive the care and support they need This research topic aims to explore and document the diverse structures and developments of geriatric care across different countries By examining the aging demographics availability of specialized healthcare professionals and existing services this research seeks to identify best practices and innovative strategies that can be shared globally The objective is to foster a collaborative environment where countries can learn from each other's experiences ultimately leading to improved geriatric care worldwide Key questions include how countries with less developed systems can enhance their geriatric care and what role international collaboration can play in this process To gather further insights into the global landscape of geriatric care we welcome Original Research Review Mini review Case Report Clinical Trial and Opinion articles addressing but not limited to the following themes The country specific aging structure of the population An overview of professional and academic healthcare providers Structure of healthcare services for the older patient Country specific challenges and future planning and developments Examples of countries with well established geriatric care systems which served as models for countries still developing their services By sharing research and insights we aim to build a comprehensive body of work that significantly advances progress in geriatric care ensuring that all elderly individuals receive the support and services they deserve

Best Practices Pediatrics M.D. Charles Raymond Bell, 2026-01-21 This eloquent anthology encapsulates the essence of pediatric care threading the delicate interweave of medical acumen and heartfelt empathy It guides caregivers through childhood's myriad health and emotional landscapes advocating for equitable healthcare and championing the union of science and compassion From addressing the nuances of family dynamics to the special considerations for LGBTQIA youth it serves as a guide and beacon of informed nurturing care This tome is a homage to the guardians of childhood's fleeting innocence offering wisdom and support to foster each child's health to its fullest potential

Why School Doesn't Work for Every Child Matt Bromley, 2025-05-01 Every child no matter their starting point or background and no matter their additional and different needs should have an equitable chance of success at school This first book in the Equity in Education series looks at how schools can foster a better sense of belonging and ensure they are truly inclusive of all learners thus mitigating the effects of an increasingly unequal fractured society To ensure a child's birth does not also become their life's destiny Matt Bromley shows how an inclusive school culture can be created through a process that is as simple as ABC Attendance raising the attendance and punctuality of disadvantaged learners Behaviours helping students develop appropriate behaviours for learning so that they can conduct themselves positively and develop the skills needed to access an increasingly challenging curriculum Community building a community around learners by putting family first and engaging with parents as partners in the process of educating their child Offering actionable guidance and strategies that can be used to support school development plans the book sets out the practical ways schools can create a collaborative culture in which all staff understand the importance of inclusion as well as the part they play in helping to achieve it As such it is essential reading for all teachers and school leaders who want to ensure that every child has an equitable chance of success at school and in later life
