The European Community after 1992 Silvio Borner,Herbert Grubel,2016-07-27 The liberalization of trade and factor movements and the adoption of a common currency proposed for the EEC in 1992 have important implications for the rest of the world Nineteen experts from academia different countries and regions and international organizations analyze these implications theoretically and empirically In general the authors expect Europe 1992 to generate positive effects on trade and welfare although concerns are raised over possible inward looking policies by the Community For many small and distant countries the effects are shown likely to be insignificant in any case

Electronic commerce and digital services Júlio César Parente Patrocínio,2023-07-07 THE DIGITAL ENVIRONMENT HAS NO BOUNDARIES A new business model product or technological service emerges all the time Along with the facilitation and solutions brought by technological development new problems conflicts and litigation in social and economic relations also arise Laws of several countries are not often able to keep up with the digital dynamism Furthermore there is not a consensus in international trade organisations on the concept of digital services and electronic commerce That is the scenario in which the European Union has constantly developed rules to regulate the digital environment ensuring and combining legal security and standardisation of rules with the practical advantages of these new social and trade relations stimulating innovation and economic growth While the WTO and the OECD have not reached a consensus on this matter the EU has been influencing rules around the world and adding chapters on electronic commerce to its deep integration trade agreements with third countries The book analyses EU regulations regarding the online environment such as personal data protection electronic commerce electronic contract electronic signature and identification advertising digital services consumer rights and taxation It addresses several decisions made by the Court of Justice and national courts of the EU The influence of the EU in Mercosur is demonstrated through the analysis of laws and jurisprudence of Mercosur countries
