1. INTRODUCTION

Science is based on many different pillars that combine to provide the methods of reasoning, logic, and ethics to conduct research. Based on the research methods the foundation of all the research is scientific reasoning. It varies with different nature of disciplines and based on four basic foundations pulling together the idea of scientific reasoning.

- The initial basis of research is the foundation. It is a natural phenomenon for a researcher to start looking for a solution based on scientific questions and hypotheses. The theories observations will be tested against the data collected through observations.

- The possible reasons behind any phenomenon are based on law of nature. There are several different scientific reasoning processes to find out a solution for a research problem through hypothesis. The theory is broken down into small different parts or problems to find out a valid hypothesis [1].
- The results are needed to be predicted for the research based on the outcome of the experiment. Most of the time based on the alternative hypothesis. The predictions of the theory are tested rather than theory to find out if the predictions are incorrect. Depending on the results theory, is accepted or refined.
- The applied part of research is data that is important to conduct research in the real world

It describes four different methodologies of knowledge accumulation. First is the hypothetico-deductive method, music as object. Then the author asks, "Where is the musical work?" After an introduction to semiotics, the question that must follow is, "Is music a language?" Following up methodologies focusing on intersubjective and contextual topics, the presentation of hermeneutics generates the question, "What happens to the music when you are listening?" Being the most subjective phenomenology is the last methodology to be presented. The question it poses is, "Are analysis and interpretation two sides of the same coin?" Artistic research is a new perspective in knowledge acquisition and the performing artist is the pivot point. The obvious insight positioning music beyond the score is elaborated into a critique of the representational theory as a relevant ontological discourse in music. As an alternative, the potential in embodied meaning theories is discussed through cognitive linguistic and artistic approaches. Artistic expressions convey the subjective practitioner knowledge based on the difference between the objective sign and the intersubjective expression. This makes music as communication the ultimate topic. In conclusion, understanding the meaning construction and the conditions of artistic content are both of importance in artistic research.
