Contagion Film Questions Answered:

The Humanities Pandemic Margaret Topping, 2023-07-25 This book explores how the Humanities can play an essential services role in addressing global challenges such as the Covid pandemic In arguing for their contribution alongside that of the Health Sciences it calls for a new critical engagement honest and self reflective from Humanities scholars with the question of how to overcome a fundamental challenge facing universities globally finding a common language and set of cultural assumptions between disciplines as the basis for communication The book looks at the nature of the challenges that can beset collaboration across disciplines and indeed across sectors notably between researchers and the general public and argues for a new Translational Humanities in both the sense of an applied Humanities and a Humanities that can translate itself across disciplines and sectors Crucially too it suggests that it is not narratives such as a pandemic novel or contagion film that successfully engage with contentious debates about the challenges of Covid but rather critically distant texts and thematic contexts that typically place the self in the position of other like travel narratives This book sits at a previously unconsidered intersection between debates around interdisciplinary collaboration and communication theories of intercultural contact and encounter and the role of the Humanities in tackling global issues

The Pedagogy of Adaptation Dennis Cutchins, Laurence Raw, James M. Welsh, 2010-02-23 From All Quiet on the Western Front and Gone with the Wind to No Country for Old Men and Slumdog Millionaire many of the most memorable films have been adapted from other sources And while courses on film studies are taught throughout the world The Pedagogy of Adaptation makes a strong case for treating adaptation studies as a separate discipline What makes this book unique is its claim that adaptation is above all a creative process and not simply a slavish imitation or reproduction of an original This collection of essays focuses on numerous contexts to emphasize why adaptations matter to students of literature It is the first such volume devoted exclusively to teaching adaptations from a practical teacher centered angle Many of the essays show how adaptation as a discipline can be used to prompt reflection on cultural historical and political differences Written by specialists in a variety of fields ranging from film radio theater and even language studies the book adopts a pluralistic view of adaptation showing how its processes vary across different contexts and in different disciplines Defining new horizons for the teaching of adaptation studies these essays draw on such disparate sources as Frankenstein Moby Dick and South Park This volume not only provides a resource book of lesson plans but offers valuable pointers as to why teaching literature and film can help develop students skills and improve their literacy

Italian Mobilities Ruth Ben-Ghiat, Stephanie Hom, 2015-07-24 The Italian nation state has been defined by practices of mobility Tourists have flowed in from the era of the Grand Tour to the present and Italians flowed out in massive numbers in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Italians made up the largest voluntary emigration in recorded world history As a bridge from Africa to Europe Italy has more recently been a destination of choice for immigrants whose tragic stories of shipwreck and confinement are often in the news This first of its kind edited volume offers a critical accounting of those histories and practices shedding new light on modern Italy as a flashpoint for mobilities as they relate to nationalism imperialism globalization and consumer leisure and labor practices The book s eight essays reveal how a country often appreciated for what seems immutable its classical and Renaissance patrimony has in fact been shaped by movement and transit
